Economic Experts Lead Fight To Get Senate Okay for U. S. To Enter Into New Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two of the administration's top economic experts go to Capitol Hill today to open the fight for senate approval of U.S. participation in the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD).

Secretary of Treasury Douglas Dillon, and George W. Ball, undersecretary of state for economic affairs, will outline the case for Senate ratification of the OECD convention at a public hearing of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Their testimony comes in the wake of growing opposition from some trade groups apparently fearful of foreign competition.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk took note of this yesterday in a speech to a government-industry conference in which he asked for speedy congressional action.

Oppose Approval

Rusk said he was told that Congress is being "bombarded" by letters and telegrams opposing approval.

He said the grounds on which the opposition is based are entirely false. According to the messages, Rusk said, the OECD would try to curtail the tariff-

Union, Firm Agree on Plan To Cut Costs

Proposal Would Save Brewery From Liquidation

NEW YORK (AP) — A union-management agreement has been made in an effort to save the Jacob Ruppert brewery from liquidation.

The plan, made public Monday, involves voluntary layoffs averaging 10 per cent of the work force. It is expected to cut the 93-year-old firm's labor costs by $1 million dollars a year.

The union submitted the plan as a counter-proposal to one in which management proposed elimination of 48 jobs and a 10 per cent wage cut.

Millions Lost

The brewery, which has lost more than $2.5 million since 1958, currently is embroiled in a stockholders' struggle. One group wants to keep the plant alive; the other wants liquidation.

The new plan calls for workers to take five-week layoffs during the year on a rotating basis.

It also provides that management personnel take salary cuts of at least 10 per cent.

Murray Vernon, chairman of the board and related by marriage to the late Col. Jacob Ruppert, founder of the brewery, has agreed to reduce his salary from $50,000 a year to $25,000, a management spokesman said.

Another aspect of the plan is payment of $1,000 each to induce the 55 to 60 workers over the age of 65 to retire.

Represent Employees

The agreement was explained at a news conference by I. Philip Sisper, counsel for the Brewery Workers Joint Board, and officials of three Teamsters Unions, which represent 800 production and distribution employees.

Sisper said the agreement had been approved at a union membership meeting Sunday night with only 10 of the 700 men present dissenting. The 450 members of a half-dozen craft and clerical unions are now considering it.

In Pittsburgh, Pa., 400 union employees of a meat packing firm voted Monday to donate five weeks pay apiece this year to keep the Oswald & Hess Co. in business.

Carl Peiper, president of the company, described the plan as a "joint effort to survive." He gave all credit to the employees who belong to five different unions.

Silver Wire in AEC Machine Backing Money

Was Borrowed From Treasury In World War II

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of that paper money you're carrying around in your wallet may be backed by silver wire in an Atomic Energy Commission machine at Oak Ridge, Tenn.

The AEC is still using some of the silver it borrowed from the Treasury Department during World War II when copper wire was in short supply.

But there's no danger the Treasury will renege on any of its silver certificates. Under the original loan agreement, dollars can be issued against the AEC silver stock, although it may be part of an electromagnetic separator.

Payments Problem

Use of the silver by the AEC, 16 years after World War II ended, came to light during research by aides to Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., on the international balance of payments problem.

Javits, a member of the Senate Banking Committee, today made public a letter from the AEC explaining its use of Treasury silver.

During World War II, the Manhattan Engineering District—war-time predecessor to the AEC and developer of the atomic bomb—borrowed from the Treasury $27,814,149 ounces of silver valued at over $520 million.

Because of a copper shortage, the silver was used in bars and coils installed in the electromagnetic separations plant at Oak Ridge.

Returns Silver

Since the end of World War II, the AEC has returned 363,062,832 ounces of silver to the Treasury but retains 64,751,316 ounces valued at $59.6 million.

"This silver on hand is still in coils, some of which are being used in the stable isotope program, with the remainder being held for future use or return to the Treasury," the AEC said in its letter to Javits.

The AEC is attempting to develop new uses for nonradioactive isotopes—heavy atoms of elements—in its stable isotope program.

Why can't the AEC replace the silver with copper and return it to the Treasury?

Because, Javits' aides said, it would cost an enormous amount of money to do the job. They said the AEC plans to send the silver back to the Treasury depositories

Capitol Hill Has Own Musical Chair Version

Devoted Following of Alabama Democrat Raises Funds for His Own Swivel Seat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Rules Committee has been engaged in a Capitol Hill version of the game of musical chairs.

Capitol workmen would like to see the game end.

It started last week when Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., said, presumably with tongue in cheek, that he didn't plan to order three more black leather swivel armchairs for the three newest members of his committee. Smith said he didn't expect the three to be around very long.

Represented Defeat

Expansion of the committee to take in three new members represented a defeat for Smith, who fought off efforts to enlarge the committee as a means of easing the way for President Kennedy's legislative program.

One of the newcomers is Rep. Carl Elliott, D-Ala., who apparently has a devoted following back home. When the news that he might not get a chair matching the ones of other committee members hit Elliott's district, friends started a nickel and dime drive to buy him a chair.

The drive was more than successful. Elliott's chair was delivered Monday to the Rules committee room. It is a brown leather swivel chair with curled headrest and it is bigger than those of other committee members. It also is bigger than Smith's.

Looks Chair Up

Smith ordered the chair locked up in his private office and refused to allow it to be photographed. Instead, he called the custodian and asked for three chairs like the 12 old ones.

Soon, Capitol workmen wheeled in three swivel chairs and arranged them in place. Smith said they wouldn't do. They were smaller than the others, had hard seats and no arms.

So they were taken back to storage. Three brand new chairs to match the old ones were ordered. They are expected to be ready when the committee meets again, perhaps next week.

Elliott then will have to find another place for his personal chair.

Man Acquitted of Murder Returned to Hospital for Insane

MADISON (AP)—Gregory Esser, 30, was returned to the Central State Hospital for the Criminal Insane Monday after his acquittal on a charge of slaying a 13-year-old boy.

Circuit Judge Edwin M. Wilkie ordered an indefinite confinement for Esser after a jury acquitted him Friday on his plea of insanity in the 1956 fatal shooting of Gerald Anderson of Madison, during a hunting trip.

Esser had been confined at the institution for nearly four years. He was released last September when psychiatrists ruled him fit for trial.

Judge Wilkie ordered that Esser remain at the hospital "until there 940 million ounces of silver found sane and safe for disvalued at $1.2 billion."

Still Numbers On Increase In Wisconsin

MADISON (AP)—An increase in the number of complaints about illegal stills in Wisconsin stems from unemployment and lower personal incomes in the Midwest, Gordon Corry, chief enforcement officer of the Alcoholic Tax Division, said Monday.

"There hasn't been a great demand for illicit liquor in Wisconsin for years," Corry said. "For one thing people could afford to buy legal, taxed alcohol."

Corry said his office is investigating several complaints received recently. He added that although the number of complaints has increased his office doesn't expect any appreciable number of stills to turn up in Wisconsin in the near future.

In the first four years after the 1933 repeal of prohibition, 560 stills were smashed by men from Corry's office. Since that time, he said, an average of only two a year has been found.

when the machines can no longer be used.

The largest depository is located at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y. At latest count the Treasury had stored there 940 million ounces of silver valued at $1.2 billion.

19 Referendums Could Make April Ballot One Of Wordiest in History

Proposals Range From Legalizing Bingo to Eliminating Property Tax

MADISON (AP)—The wordiest ballot in Wisconsin history could face the voters in the April election if the Legislature readies 19 proposed referendum questions in time.

The proposals range from legalizing bingo to elimination of the personal property tax.

In five weeks of activity legislators have come up with six questions they want to put before the voters in April. It isn't expected that the sixth week, starting today as both the Assembly and Senate held brief afternoon sessions, will bring any more proposed ballot questions.

But in 1959 the legislature approved 13 proposed constitutional amendments. Approval again this year—before March 1—will put them on the April ballot.

All Turned Down

Putting batches of proposals on the ballot was sharply discouraged in 1914. All 11 proposals offered that year were turned down by the voters.

Shorter ballots have done better. Two of four referenda questions won voter approval in 1956 and a single one gained favor in 1957.

The six non-constitutional proposals would ask the people if they favor a sales tax, a withholding tax, 18-year-old voters, 19-year-old voters, six-month residence requirements for voters and legalized bingo.

Legislative approval is necessary by the end of the month to allow time to get ballots printed and official notices out before election day, April 4.

Proposals Listed

Proposed constitutional amendments which could get on the ballot would:

- Let sheriffs serve more than two terms in a row.
- Permit communities to take over property without a favorable jury verdict.

Count Indians for purposes of reapportionment.

Raise the debt limit for school districts.

Set up an emergency government system in case top state officials are killed or seriously injured in an enemy attack.

Permit raising salaries of officials with terms of more than four years during their terms of office.

Besides the proposal to eliminate personal property taxes, there are others to permit reduction of such taxes. Few expect these to get on the ballot.

State Road Deaths

Now at 87 for Year

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The death of a Polk County man has raised Wisconsin's 1961 highway toll to 87 compared with 78 on this same day a year ago.

Henry Jacobson, 48, Route 1, Star Prairie, was killed Monday when the car he was driving left Polk County Highway M and rammmed into a tree. Passing motorists found his body.

Jury Says Negro Boy Guilty of Murdering White

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A 16-year-old Negro boy has been convicted of second-degree murder in the killing of John A. Campiglia, 17, a white honor student, last March 21.

A jury deliberated almost two hours yesterday before bringing in the verdict against Franklin D. Sutton.

The commonwealth had charged that Sutton was one of 12 Negro youths who jumped Campiglia as he was walking home. Sutton was the first to stand trial.

Sutton testified that he had tried to punch Campiglia but couldn't because his friends were in front of him. Campiglia died of knife wounds.

The commonwealth said the attack was in retaliation for one several days before when Sutton was beaten. Campiglia had nothing to do with the attack or other gang fights in the neighborhood, the state said.

The trial began last Tuesday before Judge Byron A. Milner.

Police say that Norman Wilson, 18, has admitted plunging a dagger into Campiglia's back. He is to go on trial Feb. 27.

Judge Milner postponed sentencing Sutton until after Wilson is tried. But he said Sutton probably belonged at an industrial school where he could learn a trade.

UW Fox Valley Center Planetarium Classroom in Earth, Space Sciences

BY CLARA HUSSONG

GREEN BAY — A new planetarium has just been installed at the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center between Appleton and Menasha. Designed primarily for extension classes, it also will be available at certain times to elementary and high school students, and to the public.

A group of us from Green Bay visited the planetarium and heard the lecture given by Herbert Williams of Spitz Laboratories, Yorklyn, Del. He told us that this was the first installation in the country of this particular new design of planetary projector.

Darkens Gradually

While watching the map of the sky being projected onto the 24-foot dome, and listening to the lecture, I couldn't help comparing the experience with my only previous one in a planetarium. This was in a much larger planetarium, but the lecturer was in such a hurry to push us through the result was disappointing.

Mr. Williams, however, took his time and explained everything clearly and vividly. As he talked, he operated the panel of instruments on the console.

This is the way night comes at this season, he said, and the planetarium chamber gradually became darker. From our seats ringed around the chamber we watched the sun's light leave the sky.

Another public showing of the planetarium will be Saturday afternoon, Vern Imhoff, Center director, says. Donald Nelson, area astronomer of the Spitz Planetarium firm, will conduct the showings at 1:30, 2:15, 3, 3:45 and 4:30 p.m.

Beautiful, bright Venus appeared in the southern sky, followed by two other evening planets, Mars and Mercury, all visible at this time.

We were viewing the evening sky as it appeared on that date — Feb. 4 — so the waning moon was shown crossing over from east to west. Next, the conspicuous constellations of the season were displayed: The Big Dipper, Cassiopeia, Orion, Taurus, the Square of Pegasus, and others.

Sky Map Shifts

After the larger constellations were spotted and identified, the smaller stars were "turned on." About one thousand stars can be projected by this model. More would be too confusing and crowded for the size of the dome.

By means of the revolving projector, the sky map can be shifted, so that the heavens as they appear at any hour of the night, at any season, and in both the northern and southern hemispheres can be shown. Without going to Brazil, we had a glimpse of the Southern Cross, Centaurus, Carina, Volans, and others.

We were reminded that the North, or Polar, Star is more or less stationary, and that the constellations near it can be seen the year around. And that at the North Pole, all directions are south. Where is the North Star at the pole? Straight up, at zenith, of course.

Because we live approximately at 45 degrees north latitude, we see this star about halfway up the 90-degree ABC from horizon to zenith, I reasoned. I hope correctly. The farther north you go, the higher up the North Star appears.

What a simple and wonderful way to teach astronomy and mathematics at the same time, we said to each other later. Other demonstrations of the planetary machinery showed us how all the earth and space sciences can be taught, as well as astronomy and higher mathematics.

Glass Orb

One of the projectors was in the form of a glass orb, on the outside of which were the maps of the continents and islands of the earth. When viewing this as projected on the dome, the students are told that they see the earth as it would appear to them if they could view it from the center of the earth.

Our world (or our knowledge of it) is getting bigger all the time. We need to know more than just what happens on this earth. No doubt, in years to come small model planetariums in every school will be as commonplace as globes of the earth are today.

Meanwhile, those to whom the Fox Valley Center planetarium is available have a treat in store. I was told that the open dates are booked for months ahead.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAD gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAD moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAD's unequalled rebuilding action helps restore flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAD acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAD relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAD won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAD today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

America Like Sinful Gilead, Pastor Asserts

Rev. Troge Says People Please Selves, Forget God

America today was compared to sinful Gilead in the time of Jeremiah by the Rev. Wilbur A. Troge at Grace Lutheran Church Sunday.

The people to whom Jeremiah spoke forgot God, lived in houses full of fraud, cheated, robbed and became great, rich and fat, Pastor Troge said. Prophets and priests said "all is well," satisfying the people but not healing spiritual wounds.

Jeremiah was greatly troubled, and cried out, "Is there no balm in Gilead?" No earthly balm, but return to God was necessary to heal the people of Gilead, Pastor Troge told his congregation.

Many people believe balm for the soul is found in our country which they mistake as being Christian, the pastor continued.

Please Selves

"Like all others, ours is a land in which a majority are bent on pleasing themselves and are as careless of God and forgetful of the rights and claims of others as if Christ had never been heard of," Pastor Troge said.

"We have hundreds of denominations and sects. When we are upset over what we hear in one, we start a new one. We are church tramps who move on to new surroundings when we hear in one something we do not like.

"Ours is a land in which Mammon is god for most people and they serve him out of choice. Deceit and fraud in business, among shopowners, industrialists, salesmen, managers, laborers are rampant. Cheating is a common way of life. There are false claims and pretenses in advertising of many products that he to youth about their health and bodies.

"Ours is a land where God is denied by many except in taking the oath for office or taking the witness stand," Pastor Troge said. He said it is agnosticism to disseminate knowledge which says in essence, man cannot know God because all knowledge is relative and uncertain.

Cheaters Respected

"This is a land of pleasure for the rich, which includes many, and a place of misery for the poor," the speaker continued, pointing to class and race consciousness, the sports car craze and television, movies and novels that malign Christian beliefs.

"This is where those who cheat, steal, gamble, live immoral lives and serve only themselves are respected citizens, chosen as civic leaders among civic minded people for their personality and are

Political Spending by Labor Unions

If a man of one political persuasion joins a labor union what are his rights if he learns that the union is using his dues to support candidates of another political faith? If he joined the union voluntarily he can resign. But what happens if he is compelled to join the union by a federal law such as the clause in the Railway Labor Act permitting a union shop contract under which new employees are compelled to join a union within a specified time. The current law overrides all contrary state statutes, such as so-called right to work laws.

Such a case is before the United States Supreme Court now. It was argued the other day when it came up on an appeal from a decision by the Georgia supreme court. The Georgia court held that the federal provision was unconstitutional because it allowed political spending contrary to the wishes of the involuntary railroad union members. The Georgia court enjoined enforcement of union shop contracts altogether.

The government appealed the ruling. The brief filed by the government led all concerned to believe that it would vigorously support the right of the government to compel union membership and also the right of the union to spend money derived from dues for political purposes.

There was considerable surprise when Solicitor Gen. J. Lee Rankin told the court that he believed there were constitutional limitations on political spending by unions with union shop contracts. Rankin said that when men were compelled to join a union in order to work, their dues could not constitutionally be used to support candidates they opposed.

Justice Hugo L. Black indicated he would support the view that political spending by unions violated the dissenting members' right to freedom of expression under the First Amendment. Rankin agreed with that view as to spending to support candidates.

Justice John Marshall Harlan, apparently puzzled by the discussion, asked whether or not Mr. Rankin really took that position. Rankin said that was not in his brief, "but we believe it."

Justice Felix Frankfurter was not ready to go along with that view and declared that there was a long history of union spending for political purposes that were widely recognized as important to unions. "One of the most frequent contributions is to defeat so-called enemies of labor. If that isn't a conventional union expenditure I don't know what is," Justice Frankfurter said.

Justice Frankfurter suggested that Congress had taken this history into account to allow the union shop on the railroads.

But to this Rankin said, "While unions might have been perfectly free to do all those things over the years when membership was not compelled, the United States takes the position that it is different when dissenters are compelled."

The government's brief urged that the supreme court avoid the delicate constitutional issues involved. It suggested the court send the case back to Georgia for further inquiry into what part of the dues were actually used for politics. The brief held that the Georgia order, whether sound or not in its constitutional view, was too broad. It proposed that if there is something wrong with such union political spending, the thing to do is not to ban all union shops but to enjoin spending of members' dues for political purposes against their wishes.

The questions involved are recognized as matters of prime interest to organized labor. It may be that unions will have to choose between the union shop and political spending.

If Doctor Is Late or Rushes You
—Maybe He Saved Life Last Night

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Recently a "miracle" occurred in my eyes by people who never receive the credit due them.

On a Thursday morning at 2 o'clock, my wife gave birth to a six pound six ounce baby girl. Everything progressed normally. At about 3:30 a.m., our doctor informed us that the baby was in an incubator because of excessive mucus. Feeling he knew what was best, I left for home. At 9 a.m., my wife called and told me a specialist had been called in as there appeared to be some maldevelopment of the throat. Our family doctor had stayed at the hospital all this time. I saw the baby and the specialist Thursday afternoon. He explained just what his diagnosis was and that generally the condition wasn't too serious.

Because of our other children, I didn't get back to the hospital until Friday evening. My wife and I saw the baby at 7:45 p.m. She was still in the incubator under the constant surveillance of the O.B. staff and she appeared to be unchanged—still holding her own.

At 9:40 p.m., my wife again called me, informing me that the baby was in critical condition and that two other specialists had been called in and surgery was very probable.

I returned to the hospital and spoke to one of the specialists who explained they now suspected some other obstruction and that surgery was her only hope of survival.

The baby, now only 44 hours old was taken up to surgery at 10:15 p.m. We waited patiently until 11:25 when the three doctors came in. A tracheotomy had been performed and a tube inserted below the maldeveloped portion of the trachea. An operation of this kind, you can realize, is very delicate because of the patient's size and its strength to survive. It is a minute procedure with only one chance for success. The baby was saved.

The cooperation between the physicians, their skills, knowledge and persistent efforts along with the hospital staff saved a life. These people dedicate their whole lives to this sort of thing. Surely, they are compensated for this service, but is money enough for the wonderful things they do?

I personally wish to extend mine and my wife's thanks and we wish to express our deepest gratitude to the physicians, hospital staff and anyone else that had a hand in saving our daughter.

I also want to remind you—the next time your doctor is late or rushes you—remember he may have saved a life the night before.

There's Lesson for All
In Anti-Trust Sentences

Editor Post-Crescent:

In an editorial concerning "Electrical Companies in the Anti-Trust Net" you state that Judge Ganey's statement is less severe than those of editors. You seem to imply that these large companies never intended to admit that they deliberately intended to violate the anti-trust laws. That these companies issued directions forbidding such actions. Judge Ganey said "that to claim to be unaware of cloak and dagger price fixing, bid rigging and job alterations by their representatives involving hundreds of millions is simply incredible."

Complacency of our society toward these double standards stand out for in our case a man's parish condoned and proclaimed its unshaken confidence in the integrity even as the man headed for jail. The head of the church avowed undiminished respect for him. What should have been done was to express hope for his redemption. Judge Ganey did not approve as this being an American and Christian way of life, for he accused the defendant companies and individuals of mockery of that economic system which we profess and a destroying of a model which we offer to the world.

In sentencing he took note of the difference in the company man church goer-scout leader perhaps who finds balm of conscience in serving his employer and thus his own hope of pre-ferment in wrong doing. Many probably reading the pa-

Tyler Opens Peace Conference

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Feb. 16, 1861.

Hopes of Union men were high tonight in the Peace Conference.

Today notice was given that Massachusetts would send commissioners. Ex-President Mr. Tyler, on taking the chair of the Peace Congress, delivered an address which is eulogized by those who heard it as highly patriotic and conciliatory. The proceedings were chiefly confined to an expression of views somewhat conversational. Boulogne is the only member from the seceding states who takes an active part in the proceedings.

The motive for not proceeding to business was the desire to wait for the Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, New York and Massachusetts delegations.

A resolution, was introduced proposing that the proceedings be conducted with open doors, but with a restriction upon commissioners communicating their doings to outside parties. The resolution was debated earnestly.

The commissioners are socially harmonious, but as yet they have discussed no measure looking to political results.

Budget Readable but Will People Study It

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — The content of Gov. Nelson's new budget and especially its size will fuel the principal controversies in the new legislative session.

But there is likely to be nearly unanimous agreement that its format is more attractive and effective than any such document ever presented by the executive department to the legislative branch.

Doubtless the governor had produced in printed form the neat explanatory booklet that accompanied the budget bill to help him in what he calls his "educational" effort—the campaign to persuade the reluctant taxpayer that there was nothing that he could do to avoid the deficit that impends or the new taxation that will result, and that the boost of 21 per cent in total expenditures is inevitable.

There is no doubt either that this bulletin is a self-serving one, listing the arguments consistently in favor of the spending, and ignoring what might be said, and what almost surely is going to be said by the conservatives, in favor of more cautious approaches.

UNDERSTANDING

Yet, for all of that, the citizen and the legislator can read the budget this year and understand it easily—something that could not be said in many past administrations.

The huge budget book itself, now on the desks of the lawmakers, tells clearly and precisely where the money goes, what the increases are, what the programs involved represent.

Now it is possible for the interested representative to learn about the scope and the purpose of the state spending for which he is held responsible by his constituents. There was a time when the average legislator knew very little more about the state budget of Wisconsin than the territorial budget of Puerto Rico and there was an excuse for his ignorance.

It is perhaps excessively optimistic to suppose that each of them is going to read and digest this huge document. But the opportunity now is present, which is an advance of some significance.

All of this was not attained without a price. The pre-legislative budget making process today is more complicated and costly than ever before. To the naked eye the capital seems to be swarming with young men carrying bulging brief cases. They are the budget analysts who have been brought in during recent years to examine departmental spending requests, and to write the justifications for them when they are endorsed by the governor.

MORE NEEDED

This is an improvement also, in the management of the state's purse — strings. Yet the close observer of the budget proceedings finds something yet lacking. The paper work is exhaustive. But the auditing remains haphazard and halting.

A part of the situation involves human nature. Legislators will pry exhaustively into an item of $200, and then doze through the discussions covering a $50,000,000 fund.

The emphasis always is on the extensions of programs and spending. When the officer turns up to ask for $110,000, who has had $100,000, he is content and the finance committee is content to explain the $10,000 difference.

It would be refreshing to the bystander to have some legislation, some day, ask for a justification of the whole.

"The legislature 50 years ago created this agency and authorized this program," the committee might say. "Why should we continue it today? What are we getting for the money. Could it be better spent in another field?"

Such intensity of examination perhaps will become less likely as the government grows. The legislative finance committee during the next two months will be examining more than $300,000,000 in direct state treasury spending. Sketchy examination must inevitably result as the spending grows even larger.

Three Vehicles May

Future Lunar Trips

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla.

Planners here suggest a rock-

Schools to Study Report by State

Appleton Not Likely to Follow All Of 'Realistic' Recommendations

A report in which the State Department of Public Instruction recommends adding four or more courses to Appleton secondary school curricula, requiring more courses in the junior highs, hiring about eight additional staff members and adding to three of the city's four secondary school buildings will be the basis of more study by the local school administration, Supt. Royce E. Kurtz says.

Although the team which surveyed the Appleton secondary schools in November stressed that its comments and suggestions "were neither intended to be critical nor unrealistic," Kurtz indicated it is unlikely that all the state recommendations will be followed.

The state praised Appleton public schools' efficient administration, conscientious teachers, courteous students, diverse curriculum and guidance viewpoint. But it noted that the schools' facilities were burdened by rapidly increasing enrollment and demands for richer curriculum.

Changes Recommended

The following changes in course offerings and requirements were recommended:

1. More electives in English, designed to meet special needs and develop special talents.
2. Extending seventh and eighth grade science from semester to year courses, requiring ninth grade science and offering a physical science course in high school.
3. Requiring art and music in seventh and either eighth or ninth grade. Art and music could be offered on alternate days in ninth grade, it was suggested.
4. Expand driver education to include driving practice. Students who want behind-the-wheel training now take it at Appleton Vocational and Adult School during the summer.
5. Expand junior high home economics to include more time on areas other than food and clothing, and add a course for senior boys and girls together.

Space Shortages

Space shortages were noticed particularly in non-academic courses — art, home economics, industrial arts and physical education. Madison Junior High School was praised as an example of what should have been the pattern at the two older junior highs. The state supervisors said to remedy what they called very inadequate housing of the Appleton High art department, a room the English department is using should be returned for art use and an addition to the school should be built.

Home economic facilities in Wilson and Roosevelt Junior High Schools are so bad that an ideal situation would be impossible there, the state visitors said. They listed as a goal kitchens with home-like units geared to various income levels.

AHS, Wilson and Roosevelt all need more industrial arts shop space, the report said.

Staff Increases

The three old schools each need an additional physical education teaching station, according to the state supervisors, who suggested either a supplementary gymnasium or swimming pool for each. Another outdoor class space could be made at the southwest corner of the high school gymnasium, they said.

Suggested staff increases include:

1. A combination vocal music coordinator and instrumental music chairman.
2. An instrumental music teacher.
3. A director of pupil services.
4. A full time counselor at Roosevelt and a part time woman counselor at Wilson.
5. An elementary counselor in the near future.
6. A full time clerk for the high school guidance department, a half time clerk for the Wilson guidance department and a near-half time clerk for the Roosevelt guidance department.
7. Someone to do clerical and mechanical work for audio-visual aids.
8. A curriculum coordinator or instruction director.

More Books

Repeatedly throughout reports on specific departments the surveyors noted need for more books, more varied books, wider use of audio-visual aids and greater coordination of elementary and junior and senior high school courses.

The schools should spend $2.50 per student for library books each year, the report said. Appleton schools spend $2.11 per junior high school and $2.12 per senior high student, the 1961 budget and 1960-61 enrollments indicate. Spending of $2 per student per

Mitchell; and Robert Taggart, Edison School Parent-Teachers Association president. ## Electricity, Not Statistics Course Okayed

Appleton School Board Wants More Math Information

The Appleton Board of Education last night approved a new high school course in basic electricity, but postponed action on a recommended course in probability and statistics.

The electricity course, part of year for audio-visual equipment and supplies was recommended. The Appleton school budget allows about $1.72 per student — $1.86 in junior high and $1.59 in senior high.

"There is need for a lunch program of high quality at each of the junior high schools," the report said. "A well-balanced lunch should be sold at a price which all students can afford and should be made available at the senior high school as well as the junior high schools. In addition, a supplementary milk program is recommended at the junior high schools."

the industrial arts curriculum, will be primarily a book course first semester next year, with practical work to be introduced second semester.

Equipment and supplies required to set up the course will cost about $2,778. Since this money isn't in the 1961 budget, installation will have to wait until Christmas vacation.

The course will include units on magnetism, electron theory, parallel and series direct current circuits, alternating current, inductance and inductive reactance, capacitance and capacitive reactance, resonant circuits, three phase power, transformers, generators and AC motors.

Replace Mechanics

Supt. Royce E. Kurtz had said the year electricity course would replace Appleton High School's one-semester auto mechanics course. But Armin Gerhardt, head of the industrial arts department, said the auto course would not have to be dropped, and may be kept until the electricity course is well established.

The board wanted more information about the proposed one-semester course in mathematics. Board member A. Neil McLeod, an economist, said the course would emphasize statistics, or vocational application, but the proposed text emphasized probability, or classical theory. People sophisticated in mathematics prefer the classic approach, he said. The board also wanted to know

South Side School Limits 'Hodgepodge'

Officials Trying to Decide Who Goes Where in Fall, 1961

It's a hodgepodge trying to decide who goes where and why for elementary school on the South side in the fall of 1961, Supt. Royce E. Kurtz told the board of education last night.

Kurtz said tentative plans for housing the city's 5,069 elementary school children — a 363 increase over present enrollment — include transportation of 352 children out of their own school districts.

Schools which have room to spare are all north of the Fox River — Edison, Jefferson, Morgan, Columbus and Franklin. Those on the South side — Foster, McKinley, Richmond and Madison — haven't enough space for the South side youngsters. This is partly because first to seventh graders in the new St. Bernadette Catholic parish won't be going to parochial school in the fall.

Tentative plans are to give the new Edison School 137 Richmond graders; Franklin 25 Lincoln kindergartners and 22 Jackson sixth graders; and Jefferson 62 McKinley second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth graders. 82 Richmond fifth and sixth graders and 24 Foster sixth graders.

This would mean Foster, Richmond and Jackson Schools would have no sixth grades. The line between areas from which children would go to Richmond and those who would be transported would vary from grade to grade. Richmond area kindergarten and first grade children would all stay at Richmond.

This plan would leave one emp-

Changes in Edison Plans to Result In $1,000 Savings

Changes resulting in $1,000 savings in Edison School construction costs were approved by the Appleton Board of Education last night.

A new kind of acoustical tile to be used for classroom and hall ceilings does not require plaster behind it. Although the tile is more expensive than that originally planned, savings in lath and plaster result in a net savings of $820.

Using a wooden rather than aluminum door for the storage basement will save $80. The aluminum door originally planned lacked a passage door. The new plan includes the small door within the wide door, and still costs less.

The school board will save $100 by not putting asphalt tile and rubber base in the Edison craft room.

Business director William R. Knuth told the board that construction is on schedule and workmanship is excellent.

Milling Machine Bought for School

The low bid of $2,990 by W. A. Voell Machinery Co., Milwaukee, for a horizontal milling machine for the Appleton High School industrial arts department was accepted by the Board of Education Monday night.

The price includes installation of a Heald Precision '30C' model machine. William R. Knuth, business director, recommended that a cabinet and other equipment be bought to bring the total cost to about $3,100. There is $3,200 in the 1961 budget for the machine.

School board member Victor Summicht questioned whether it was wise to get a machine unlike those generally used in Fox Cities industry. Industrial arts department head Armin Gerhardt said industrial machines would be too large for school use, and basic techniques are the same for use of any kind of machine.

School Superintendent To Seek Place for AVS Driving Practice

School Supt. Royce E. Kurtz was instructed by the Board of Education Monday to investigate possible sites for Appleton Vocational and Adult School to conduct its summer driving practice.

AVS Director Carl G. Bertram asked that the public schools allow the use of the black topped area at James Madison School. Growth of the driving course makes it necessary to use more than the Foster playground that was used last year, he said.

believed almost everywhere. Fear was expressed in the West that the killing would touch off full-scale civil war in the Congo.

Unless the United Nations contained the situation, said Britain's conservative Daily Telegraph, "The danger will not be only a civil war, but a repetition of the Spanish civil war where intervention by great power, will all too inevitably develop into a rehearsal for something worse."

The Tunisian government formally expressed indignation at Lumumba's death and described his killing as an "odious crime." But President Habib Bourguiba pledged to aid Hammarskjöld in anything he may undertake to bring about a reconciliation between the warring Congo leaders.

'Premeditated Murder'
A Moroccan government spokesman branded the killing as "premeditated murder" and said the United Nations is guilty of complicity because of its "passiveness and silence."

President Nasser of the United Arab Republic — a staunch supporter of Lumumba — denounced his "savagely assassination."

Malayan Prime Minister Abdul Rahman expressed shock and called for a U.N. inquiry into the circumstances. Philippine Foreign Minister Felixberto Serrano, on an official visit to Kuala Lumpur, echoed the Malayan leader's sentiments.

Indian Prime Minister Nehru said Lumumba's death was a "great shock."

A spokesman for Ceylon's Foreign Ministry expressed hope Lumumba's death "will not mark the end of democracy and freedom in the Congo." Left-wing Ceylonese parties blamed the killing on "Belgian and American imperialists and their Congolese puppets."

New Zealand Prime Minister Keith Holyoake said he feared the killing would lead to reprisals that could only bring further chaos in the Congo.

Deeply Shocked
Natives of the newly independent African nation of Nigeria were reported deeply shocked over the news.

In Britain a front-page headline in the tabloid Daily Sketch declared: "Lumumba's death makes one thing certain. Only a very optimistic prime minister would now choose the U.N. to come to his aid as Lumumba did."

In Sweden, which supplies a major contingent to the U.N. Congo forces, the influential Stockholm Tidningen castigated the United Nations for having done "almost nothing" in the Congo.

Nearly every French newspaper, left and right, also criticized the U.N. handling of the Congo situation.

Fidel Castro's Cuban regime fired off a protest to the U.N. Security Council and demanded Hammarskjöld's immediate resignation.

Suspect Was Boyfriend of Three Women Found Dead in Two New York Tenements

NEW YORK (AP)—A 32-year-old man today admitted killing three women whose bodies were found last night in two tenements.

Police said Pedro Arroyo told them his slaying of the three women was prompted by jealousy. He was described by police as a current or past boyfriend of all three. He was charged with homicide.

One of the three bodies was found on the roof of a building. The others were discovered lying side by side in the bed of Arroyo's apartment.

The victim on the roof was identified as Margarita Sierra, 16, who lived in the building. She had been shot in the head.

The women in Arroyo's bed — both strangled — were identified as Cataline Brown, 26, and Candida Caquillas, 33.

Police said the Brown woman was believed to have been living with Arroyo recently. The Caquillas stantial unemployment last weekend, a reporter asked Rayburn whether Goldberg had found the situation more serious than he had anticipated.

Goldberg's Directives
"He (Goldberg) said it is at least as bad or worse than he had expected to find it," Rayburn reported.

A few minutes later Rayburn stepped outside the white house and said before newsreel microphones and cameras that Goldberg had "found the situation worse than he had expected."

The speaker said that at today's session Goldberg was joined by other cabinet members in discussion of the recession and its related aspects.

Goldberg has issued two departmental orders to try to cope with the problem.

Undeterred by Republican criticism, he has gone ahead with plans for early visits to other depressed areas for a series of meetings on the problems of the jobless.

The two orders issued after Goldberg's weekend tour are:

1. Creation of a new office in the Labor Department which will make a special study of unemployment problems resulting from automation.

2. From now on, the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security will put out figures once a month showing which areas of the country have substantial unemployment. In the past these figures have been provided once every two months.

Help Department
Goldberg said a monthly report will help his department "keep abreast of the situation."

The orders were among subjects discussed last night by Goldberg and President Kennedy in an hour's talk at the White House.

Stress Social Studies Need

Principals From High Schools Hear Of Future Outlook

DETROIT (AP)—Unless the students of today learn to live in the world of tomorrow they face annihilation in a global holocaust.

High school principals from across the nation accepted this grim premise today in considering sweeping proposals for greatly strengthened programs in the social studies.

A position paper submitted by a special committee of the National Association of Secondary-School Principals, convening here, put it bluntly.

Never Experienced
"Preparing students for living in this and the 21st century demands a kind of social studies instruction which their parents and teachers never experienced," the committee said.

"The very existence of mankind today depends upon man's control of his social environment. Man must use his vast new sources of power for constructive purposes. The alternative is the creation of a global holocaust."

The term "social studies" is usually interpreted to mean such subjects as history, geography, economics, sociology, civics and the like. All deal, in general, with man's relations with his fellow man.

Tentative Draft
The position paper has been distributed to more than 5,000 principals attending the convention. It is a tentative draft, but only minor revisions are expected before it comes up for approval by the convention delegates.

However, Eiler said a meter at the plant was malfunctioning at the time the study was made and produced misleading figures on the amount of sewage handled.

He said 172,000 gallons of sludge was removed from the treatment tanks in the past three days and that the flow-meter reading dropped from 1.5 million gallons daily to 900,000.

The registered capacity of the High school courses in this area might include courses in U.S. history, economics, or history of Latin America and the Far East.

Emergency Asked In Monroe to Save $400,000

MONROE (AP)—The chairman of the Board of Public Works has asked the City Council to declare an emergency in the hope of saving Monroe taxpayers about $400,000.

Rex Eiler, an alderman, said Monday the emergency provision would allow minor repairs to be made at the sewage disposal plant without taking the time to call for bids. Eiler said the repairs might make it unnecessary for the community to spend $400,000 to replace the plant.

An engineering firm hired to make a study said Monroe is in desperate need of a new plant. However, Eiler said a meter at the plant was malfunctioning at the time the study was made and produced misleading figures on the amount of sewage handled.

He said 172,000 gallons of sludge was removed from the treatment tanks in the past three days and that the flow-meter reading dropped from 1.5 million gallons daily to 900,000.

Space Is Due to Become a busy and useful place as the space age matures. Here an artist represents the types of satellites which could be simultaneously at work for new means of telephone, radio and TV communications, over-seeing the earth's weather, guiding navigation of planes and ships and opening new vistas into the universe for astronomers. As indicated, three planned equi-distant communications satellites would orbit at an altitude of 23,000 miles above the earth.

Man Appears Ready For Space Flight Soon

zee named Ham rode 155 miles high and 420 mile downrange into the South Atlantic for safe recovery.

But Ham's trip was just part of a tremendous space effort which envisages launching at least 28 U. S. satellites a year.

Search for Life

It calls for a search for life on other planets or somewhere in space... trips to the moon and Venus and Mars and beyond...

satellites giving global weather reports and precise predictions of blizzards, hurricanes, tornadoes and sunny picnic Sundays...

TV and telephone calls and news reports bounced from earth to satellites and back again.

One of the greatest moments will come when a man first looks down for an awesome, thrilling view of his own round earth, and stars, shining with new brilliance in the black depths of the universe.

It will mark the first step in breaking the shackles of gravity which kept life down to earth since its beginning.

Let him slip on ice, and gravity brings man crashing down. Gravity holds him safely to his earth spinning 1,000 miles an hour, and limits how high he can jump.

Gravit has thwarted his ancient dream to explore the moon and planets.

The odds run strong the first man in orbit will be Russian. The news, indeed, could come any moment. For the Soviets leaped to a seemingly unbeatable early lead toward the goal of manned space flight.

The earliest schedule for an American to go wheeling around the earth is late this year.

Critical Date

Ham passed a critical date in the careful and worrisome timetable on Jan. 31 with his 16-minute sub-orbital flight. The tense moments, minutes and hours of his flight will be compounded 1,000-fold when a living man essays the same journey.

Ham kept pushing levers, as trained, despite the stresses of vastly increased weight at take-off and re-entry, and more than six minutes of weightlessness. His mind and reflexes worked well, indicating man also can think and act in spaceflight.

Sometime this spring probably will come a similar hop by one or more of the seven U.S. astronauts now in rigorous training.

Then the program calls for a chimpanzee to orbit the earth, propelled by a more powerful rocket. If all checks out safely, a man is to go.

The critical questions are whether humans can withstand or be protected against the hazards of radiation, bombardment by meteoritic spacejunk, prolonged weightlessness, the jolting take-off and dangerous return to earth.

All dreams of landing men on the moon and sister planets... of building and operating space way stations, inns and refueling depots... piloting rescue ships to succor spacecraft in trouble... using human skills in space for peaceful or military aims... all these depend greatly upon how the early spacemen fare.

Benefits to Come

Even if the USSR seizes the plum of being first, the mercury man-into-space program will continue, say officials of the national aeronautics and space administration.

For the human mind and senses, the human ability to talk, to feel, describe and make decisions, these qualities can enrich the harvest of knowledge and

Seeks Equal Rights On Valentine's Day

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Ladies, for all the fixings and cook him a fine dinner. You might also take over a bottle of gin or champagne.

You have compelled them to nothing of their pocketbooks—thinking up new things to give you, to please you on this day sacred to lovers.

You have made a feminine racket of the valentine. Why not—just for one day—reverse your field? Why not make it a masculine racket?

In all fairness, you ought to. For years you have campaigned shrilly for equal rights with men.

Why not give men a break and let them have equal rights on Valentine's Day? Why not spend a little of that green stuff making some man happy for 24 hours?

I don't mean just to drop off at the dime store and buy him a small nickel card with a big, red heart on it.

You've always expected your boy friend to give you something expensive. This year, why not surprise that big lug in your life by doing something big for him?

Since you rarely spend much time worrying about how to make your beau happy on Valentine's Day, you may need a few suggestions on how to do it.

New Sports Car
Here are a few tips: If he's the dashing type, you might skip down to the bank and draw out enough dough to make the downpayment on that new sports car he's been yearning for.

He'll think you're real dreamy if you gift him with a pair of diamond-studded gold cufflinks. Later, if necessary, you can get him to hook them to take you on your honeymoon.

Or, take him to a sporting goods firm and let him pick out a new fishing rod and bowling ball.

Fix a Steak
If your boy friend is the home-body type, trudge over to his benefits bound to come from space explorations.

This calls for manned explorations by all interested nations. Russia ushered in the space age, astounding the world and discomfiting the United States particularly, with Sputnik I sent aloft Oct. 3, 1957.

Since then, the two nations have taken divergent paths in exploring and exploiting the potentials of the space age.

Village PTA to Air Ideas Concerning High School District

LITTLE CHUTE — General discussion on attachment of the village to a high school district or forming a high school district in the community will highlight a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association at 8 p.m. Thursday at the grade school.

Gerard Van Hoof, committee chairman investigating the two propositions, will lead the discussion.

Hardie Named To Nelson Staff

Former Assembly Leader to Handle Legislative Affairs

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Keith Hardie of Jackson county, Democratic floor leader of the 1959 state assembly, Tuesday began working as a member of Gov. Gaylord Nelson's staff assigned to legislative affairs. The selection of the former Jackson and Trempealeau county assemblyman was announced today by the governor. Hardie had been politically unemployed since his defeat for state senate last fall to incumbent Republican State Senator Raymond C. Bise of La Crosse. Hardie has been a retail gasoline distributor in Taylor in Jackson county, and now is a candidate for a government patronage job in the Kennedy Democratic administration.

Some Lewis Work
Hardie will handle some work formerly performed by Robert Lewis, a Nelson aide who retired recently for a job in the department of agriculture. The executive office said the Hardie appointment would be temporary, presumably for the duration of the present legislative session. Hardie is regarded as one of the leading aspirants for U. S. marshal for the western district of Wisconsin, now held by Republican Ray Schoonover. Nelson and Hardie have been good friends. Nelson, in a rare showing of regard during Hardie's primary contest last fall, publicly endorsed him for the state senatorial nomination in spite of the traditional Democratic party adherence to the open primary principle.

Sewer Work 60 Per Cent Completed

NEENA H—Almost 60 per cent of cross connections found in Neenah sewer lines have been corrected by city crews, Mayor Chester S. Bell said this morning. Mayor Bell said lack of snow removal work this winter has permitted several city street crews to be freed for sewer work. The crews are correcting the cross-connections found in storm and sanitary sewer lines during fogging operations last fall. Some digging has been done, he said, but some of the major projects will have to wait until the ground thaws. He also said sewer work on S Commercial Street will have to wait until the rebuilding work on the street starts.

Water Company Seizure by Castro Leaves U. S. in Unfavorable Spot

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK — The United States has held the naval base at Guantanamo since 1903. Its water supply comes from a river five miles distant. Why the United States, in all these years, did nothing about making sure that the base's water supply was within the control of the Navy is not explainable except as an oversight in a situation that is favorable. Now the situation is unfavorable with Fidel Castro who has associated himself with Soviet Russia in charge of Cuba.

Castro has seized the company which supplies Guantanamo with water. This supply can be cut off at any time. The Navy has apparently prepared for that by hanging water to Guantanamo in tankers.

But that is begging the question. We are either at Guantanamo because we have a right to be there or we should get out. Our right is beyond question because we are there by a treaty. There is no reason why the United States should permit any treaty to become a scrap of paper. World War I was fought over that issue, if one can remember that far back.

Direct Dealing
Castro is undoubtedly jockeying for something. By seizing the water company, he forces direct dealing with him. The Navy must appeal to him for water if we do not want to fight over it, or if we do want to fight, then there is a war. It is not impossible that Castro might find war as a solution to his many problems because he undoubtedly assumes that the Soviet Universal State would come to his assistance, which may or may not be so.

Russia's foreign policy strategy is based on the Marxist concept of the inevitable conversion of the entire world to Marxism. Tactically, Soviet Russia switches its policy hither and yon to serve immediate ends and to reach essential goals.

Cuba is not in the grand strategy of Soviet imperialism. It is a base with a double objective, namely, to irritate the United States and to penetrate Latin America by means of Latin American Communists. For many years, Mexico was the seat of Communist activity for the American continents with Vincente Lombardo Toledano as the head man.

Influence Waned
But the Mexican government was, on the whole, antagonistic to Soviet activities and Toledano's influence waned in Latin America as the center of activity shifted from the proletariat to the intellectual. Also in Mexico there were many Trotskyists who are more obnoxious to the Kremlin than capitalists Cuba, with Raul Castro and Che Guevara in charge, is a much better base, more effective, and with a government completely allied to the Soviet Universal State. In a word, the Cuban situation offered a very effective opportunity for Soviet Russia.

The weakness in this plan, however, is in the personality of Fidel Castro who is less a revolutionary than a narcissist, less a statesman than an actor. He has antagonized most of the people of the United States by his overt antagonism to this country, by his fraternization with Khrushchev, by his seizure of American property and by his brutal killings if Castro believes that by controlling the water of Guantanamo. Had this molasses not been sold, he can jockey the United States into accepting his regime, he ought to learn quickly and forcibly that he is mistaken.

The American embargo on trade with Cuba applies to the sale of American goods to Cuba. It does not affect the purchase of Cuban goods. In a word, American dollars may still go to Cuba. A Philadelphia distiller of whiskey recently bought 120,000,000 gallons of molasses from Castro at an average of 10 cents a gallon. Purchases from Cuba, ought to be stopped if an economic war against Cuba is to be effective. (Copyright, 1961)

Drilling Hurts Dentists More Than Patients

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Like countless thousands, do you find it painful and upsetting to visit your dentist? Well, a psychologist has come up with the theory that the dentist's work is more painful to him than it is to you. Furthermore, says Dr. Sidney Gitlin, the tensions of hurting patients while fixing their teeth of appointments at the last minute lead many dentists to mental instability, frustration and heart attacks. Writing in the current bulletin of the Philadelphia County Dental Society, Dr. Gitlin says the rate of heart attacks among dentists is second only to physicians in the professional ranks. The psychologist says patients' fear of the chair produces several situations, including cancellation of appointments at the last minute or coming in late, upsetting the dentist's schedule. Other patients delay paying their bills, says Dr. Gitlin. He says it's their way of saying to the dentist: "You hurt me. Now it's my turn to hurt you." Everyday experiences such as these often leave dentists in a state of frustration and tension, claims Dr. Gitlin.

From Ill-Fated Valentine, Pagans Came Loving, Unloving Verses

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

It is timely and perhaps proper to have a look, today, at Saint Valentine and his namesakes—Valentines. Like many a devoted lover, Valentine lost his head, but not for the reason you think. It was lopped off some time in the year 270 because he had been at odds with the Roman emperor, Claudius, who was not averse to beheadings. That's the legend, but there really were at least five fellows named St. Valentine. Valentine's association with this day is based on the fact that he — whichever one — is the patron saint of lovers — unhappy ones. The date, Feb. 14, is significant only because this is the anniversary date of his execution. Also tied to the Feb. 14 date for the observation is an old belief that this date is the one which birds begin to mate. A pagan custom of old is the celebration of the period.

Only Dearest Honored

Most of our festivals are based upon the ancient pagans, and we build on the ground which they used for their festivals, as on St. Valentine's Day. The Valentines which children every kid has one for every other kid in his class

A Verse for All

The custom dates back to periods when it was necessary to send a tender letter to a loved one, for Valentines per se have not always been with us as a manufactured product.

Samuel Pepys, the famed diarist, notes that a hand-made drawing with a gentle message was in vogue in 1667. But, since not every person could scribble a tender verse or sketch a scene, some Johnny-come-lately in 1797 published a book titled "The Young Man's Valentine Writer." From its pages, the swain could find a suitable sweetness to copy. It contained every variety of affection, through many grades of each — and included bitter, vitriolic hatred.

And later, when the fine art of cribbing sweet phrases became more the fashion, it was possible to find a Valentine verse suitable for almost every kind of maiden and every kind of worker — maids, glaziers, doctors. The "I will" versions were not alone. There were "I won't" versions, too. Like this, from the 16th century:

Dear doctor, your advice
You need not give me twice.
I drugs and physics hate,
So, pray thee, cease thy prate;
You ne'er will obtain.
Your courtship is in vain;
I never will incline
To be your Valentine.

'To a Bad Dancer'

From other books and booklets of the period, one could find almost any kind of a verse for the occasion. Like these "To a Bad Dancer", "To a Conceited Man", "To an Impudent Fellow", "To an Old Lady", or "To a Lady with Bad Teeth." The last verse of the latter went like this:

And if a cough or other cause
Unluckily expose your jaws,
For fear the curious may explore it,
I pray you, keep your hand before it.

The over - elegant, lacy varieties came into vogue, as well as manufacture, in about the 1850s and were around until well into the 20th century.

One popular one in the period was a small hand mirror in a lacy background. The two - line verse read:

Reflected in this mirror see
All that's beautiful to me.

Vinegar Valentines

But there were vinegar Valentines in those days just as there are in these. One "To a Venomous Hussy" went like this:

You're a double-faced creature
And full of conceit
For back-biting slander you cannot be beat.
Such a venomous hussy can seldom be found;
You are known as a vixen for miles around.
So don't try your tricks any more upon me
For through all of them I can easily see!

There were even valentines to people of those days who wore dirty underclothing, but I won't tell you about them.

By the 1920s, when our taste

Kimberly Junior High Presents Talent Shows Twice Today

was not so elegant, cards were a little vulgar. One, showing a clothesline with a cloth upon it, read

I'd like to be the washing
So I could hang around your house.

Saint Valentine—whichever one of five persons he might be—would be surprised.

Top Hat Dance Club held a Mardi Gras costume party Saturday evening at Legion Memorial building. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Long and Mr. and Mrs. John Spalding were in charge of the evening's festivities. Prizes were awarded later in the evening for the best costume. Apparently vying for the award are, from left, Willard Smith, Mrs. Fred Pettegrew, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Foltz and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Orbison, all of Appleton.

Mardi Gras is the Gayest Time of the year in New Orleans. The pre-lenten observance there lasts for weeks and is marked by daily parties and balls. Outdone in length of celebration, but not in the spirit, members and guests of St. Bernadette-Sacred Heart Home School Association reveled Friday evening in the gracious spirit of the southland. At right, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Besaw are pictured enjoying the evening of dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Al Volpentesta helped distribute masks and other carnival paraphernalia to arriving guests. They are shown above with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Fissel.

Balloons, Masks and Confetti were in order for Top Hat Dance Club's festive party Saturday evening as members gathered at Legion Memorial building for a pre-lenten Mardi Gras celebration. Party-goers are Mr. and Mrs. John Spalding, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Lehman and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Long, all of Appleton. At left, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Konz and Mr. and Mrs. James Grist, Appleton residents, pose in their colorful regalia.

Stick to Logic, Not A Simper

When you want to locate a key card it may help to glance winningly at an opponent and murmur, "A beautiful girl like you really ought to have the king of clubs."

This won't help if your wife is your partner or if both opponents happen to be tough curmudgeons of the male persuasion. Logic may then work better than flattery.

Opening lead — ♦ 2

East won the first trick with the king of diamonds and returned a trump. South drew trumps with the ace and queen and then wondered whether to lead a heart or a club from dummy. East surely had at least one of the kings for her opening bid, but the problem was which king to play her for first.

Since East was a rather attractive young lady, South tried the winning glance and the murmur. East batted her eyelashes and simpered, whereupon South felt sure he had made an accurate guess. He therefore led a low club from dummy.

Alas — women were ever deceivers. The queen of clubs lost to the king, and back came a club. Now South was sure to lose two clubs, a heart, and a diamond. Down one.

Try Logic

Now try logic. Assume that East has one of the missing kings. If you try clubs first and your guess is wrong, you may go down. Think of trying the hearts first. If East has the king of hearts, your guess will be right, and you will make the game easily. East will take the king of hearts, but you will later take tricks with the queen and dummy's ace of hearts.

Next suppose the worst. You lead a low heart from dummy and it turns out that you have guessed wrong for West captures your queen with the king of hearts. You are still in good shape since you can still get back to dummy and lead a club toward the queen.

If you try hearts first, you are safe no matter which king East has. If you try clubs first, you may go down. The brain is mightier than the simper.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold: S. Q 8 7 5 4. H. A 7 6 4. D. 8, C. A 10 6. What do you say?

Answer: Bid three spades. A jump to four spades would show not more than 9 points in high cards. In this case you have 10 of the juiciest possible points — two aces and the queen of trumps. You might easily miss a cold slam by making the shutout bid of four spades.

SEAMS TO ME
By Patricia Scott

A wonderful, easy-to-make gift for someone in school, or for anyone who reads a great deal, is a protective felt book cover. The book protector takes very little time and money, and it will certainly be received with joy. Then, for those who wear glasses, try a felt eyeglasses case — and this is unbelievably easy to make!

Both of these gifts, of course, must be personalized with the name or initials of the one for whom you are making them. This is done with interlocked rickrack.

Book Cover: You'll need 1-3 yard felt; 4 and 2-3 yards baby rickrack.

1. Cut felt into 5 pieces. Two pieces are 3" x 10 1/4" for inside flaps; one piece 10 1/4" x 15 1/4" for jacket; one piece 1" x 14" for bookmark; one piece 4 1/2 inches high, 6 1/2 inches across the top, tapered in on each side to 5 1/2 inches across the bottom for the pocket.
2. Pin pocket to front of jacket, 3 1/2 inches above the lower edge. Pin at bottom first, then square off pocket, bringing in fullness at top to allow room for note pads, etc.
3. Top stitch rickrack around outside edges and down sides to form pocket divisions.
4. Pencil in name or initials in center front, below pocket. Cut two strips of rickrack about 18 inches long or as long as necessary, and interlock one point over the other. Press and top stitch over pencil markings.
5. Cut bookmark into a V shape at one end. Stitch two rows of rickrack around entire bookmark.
6. Pin inside flaps to inside of jacket, front and back, with edges even. Pin bookmark to upper end of jacket back, 6 inches from right edge.
7. Top stitch rickrack on right side of fabric around entire jacket 1/4 inch from outside edge, ever possible will use their quescatching in bookmark and two tions in her column, but because of the great volume of mail re-

42 inches baby rickrack for edge of case and as much as is necessary for name or initials you use.

First round off one short side of each felt piece as in illustration. Then, pencil in name or initials on one piece and top-stitch rickrack over pencil markings.

Stitch rickrack to each felt piece individually, stitching 1/8 inch or abit more from the edge. Stitch the rickrack all around the four sides of each piece. Now, place two felt pieces together. Stitch together along three sides, starting from the edge of one long side, around the rounded side, and up the other long side, leaving the short straight edge open. Stitch over the stitching line that attached rickrack to felt.

A booklet containing 15 ideas for gifts you can make is now available. These gift ideas have been selected from Patricia Scott's most popular columns. To receive a copy of Fifteen Gifts You Can Make, write to Miss Scott in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents to cover printing and handling costs.

Miss Scott is always glad to hear from her readers, and when et 1/4 inch from outside edge, ever possible will use their quescatching in bookmark and two tions in her column, but because of the great volume of mail re-

75-Year-Old Club Keeps Goals Set by Charter Members

BY MARION DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEENAH—The Woman's Tuesday Club is 75-years-old this year—the oldest woman's club in Neenah. Although it was organized in 1886 as a literary and scientific club, it really began a year earlier, when a group of 10 women started a reading and study group, calling it "Thackeray Club."

The next year, Mrs. L. C. Osborn and Miss Jennie Cook visited a "Chautauqua course" and wanted to adopt a similar system here. Encyclopedia Britannica says "Chautauqua courses took their name from the town in New York where the idea had been founded in 1874. They spread rapidly all over the United States and became a series of home reading courses which were usually given during the summer season. Sometimes visiting instructors held meetings in tents. They were also given at summer sessions of colleges and universities. Although originally these meetings were for Sunday school teachers, it was always assumed that the best religious education took advantage of the best the world could offer in literature, art and science, and the scope of the plan broadened until a regular course of schools with graded courses was established."

With these courses in mind, a new name had to be chosen in 1886 and because the club met Tuesday afternoons the first year, it was decided to take the name "The Woman's Tuesday Club of Neenah." Membership was limited to 20 members and meetings were held in their homes. Members prepared their own papers on such subjects as Robert Browning, early Calvinism in New England, aboriginal Indians and American government.

In 1901 the club drew up a constitution and articles of organization. The constitution stated that "the object of the club shall be to promote, through organized effort, the ethical, intellectual and social culture of its members and to further measures for the betterment of the community."

Charter members were Mrs. H. Babcock, Miss Helen Babcock, Miss Caroline Babcock, Mrs. G. O. Bergstrom, Mrs. H. E. Coats, Miss Madge Christie, Miss Minnie Gittens, Mrs. H. J. Gleason, Mrs. W. M. Gilbert, Mrs. J. H. Healy, Mrs. Thomas Higgins, Mrs. D. L. Kimberly, Mrs. L. H. Kimball, Mrs. J. C. Kimberly, Mrs. John Practor, Miss Nancy Kimberly, Mrs. L. C. Osborn, Mrs. A. T. Perry, Mrs. E. F. Leavens, Mrs. F. C. Shatuck, Mrs. J. P. Sheills, Mrs. E. J. Smith, Mrs. W. Z. Stuard, Mrs. D. C. VanOstrand, Mrs. F. A. Kilde, Mrs. J. F. Conant and Miss G. G. Van Olinda.

In March, 1904, the first meeting was held in the club rooms of the newly-built Neenah library, which had been opened in 1903, sponsored by many of the charter members of the Tuesday Club. The club rooms were set aside, each Tuesday afternoon, for the use of Woman's Tuesday Club, which had furnished the rooms and took the responsibility for maintaining their upkeep. The rooms were available to any other literary organization as well.

Young Woman's Club

The Tuesday Club was responsible in a way for the YWCA of Neenah-Menasha. It sponsored a Young Woman's Club in 1911 and for more than three years, this group grew under the auspices of Tuesday Club, until it was strong enough to stand on its own. In 1929 the Young Women's Club merged with the newly-organized YWCA.

In 1931 Tuesday Club had 42 active and 11 honorary members. Mrs. C. B. Clark was president, and it had such speakers as Mayor Hoan of Milwaukee, who talked on "Playgrounds and Crime"; Dudley Craft Watson, of Chicago Art Institute, and many university and college speakers who spoke on history, travel and government. This wide variety of interests continues to be the policy today.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Neilson

In 1946 the club voted to increase its membership from 70 members, the limit in 1936, to 125, thereby "allowing more women the privilege of enjoying the programs presented by Tuesday Club."

Names of candidates for active membership are presented in writing by a member of the executive board, and must be unanimously approved by them before being presented to the club. Election is by ballot, and the applicant with the most votes is elected. New members are proposed as vacancies occur.

In 1955 the library no longer could set aside the club rooms due to its growth and the club met temporarily at Whiting Boat-house, while new clubrooms were under construction in Boys Brigade Building.

As in the past 75 years, the women continue to be interested in a variety of topics. There are speakers on politics, psychology, advertising, history, art, literature and the theater. Members are permitted to bring a guest, but the same guest may not attend more than three meetings annually. The club meets every Tuesday except holidays, from the first week in November until the last week in April.

Present officers are Mrs. Gordon Petersen, president; Mrs. Oliver Thomsen, first vice president; Mrs. F. N. Pansch, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Thom, recording secretary; Mrs. Carlton Smith, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Henry Schultz, treasurer.

The club has served the community well. The original 20 founders could not have known how much challenge and entertainment the original "Thackeray Club" would provide for so many women for such a great many years.

Couple Marks 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Neilson, 713 N. Meade St., celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house and supper Saturday evening. A service at First Baptist Church preceded a buffet dinner for the immediate family.

The couple was married Feb. 15, 1911, at Tacoma, Wash. They have three children, Mrs. Fred Mavarrate and Mrs. Donald Matteson, Appleton, and Harold Neilson, West Allis, 10 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Rev. Glenn Harms To Direct Studies

ALLENVILLE—Sunday School teachers, officers and Christian Board of Education may attend the Bible study meeting at the home of Mrs. Leon Fieschmidt at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Studies are under the direction of the Rev. Glenn Harms.

Mrs. Alfred Markusen, Neenah, was hostess at a luncheon Thursday to Women's Missionary Society of Allenville Community Baptist Church. Mrs. Lucy Jensen read devotions and was chairman of the program.

"Prayers Around the World" were read by Mrs. Glenn Harms. It was announced that a women's rally will be held April 27 at First Baptist Church, Fond du Lac. The society will serve lunch Feb. 22 at the auction on John O'Keefe farm.

Wood Protector

Pulling nails without denting a wood surface calls for a block under the hammerhead. But when there isn't room for a block, try placing the blade of a flexible putty knife under the head. It protects as well as a block.

Say Vows in Catholic Ceremony

KAUKAUNA — Miss Karla Marie Kuchelmeister and Glenn Arthur Rietz were married at 10 a.m. Saturday at Holy Cross Catholic Church. The Rev. Andrew Quella officiated at the double ring ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kuchelmeister, 330 Sarah St., and the son of Mrs. Eleanor Rietz, 324 First St., Menasha.

The bride's sister, Mrs. James Otte, Weyauwega, attended as matron of honor. Mrs. Richard Van Handel and Miss Everly Rietz, Menasha, sisters of the bridegroom, Miss Kay Kuchelmeister, Kaukauna, a cousin of the bride, and Miss Karlyn Van Daalwyk, and Miss Suzanne Schommer, Kaukauna, served as bridesmaids. Miss Victoria Kuchelmeister, the bride's sister, was a miniature bride.

Norbert Van De Wetering, Kaukauna, served his brother-in-law as best man. James Otte, Richard Van Handel, Menasha, Roy Rietz, Menasha, brother of the bridegroom, and Gene Sweere, Hilbert, attended as groomsmen. Ushering duties were performed by Robert Roebke, Wrightstown, and Edward Barten, Kaukauna. Todd Kuchelmeister, Kaukauna, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Dinner was served after the ceremony at Lamers' Tea Room, Little Chute. A reception and dance were held at Rainbow Gardens, Appleton.

The newlyweds will reside at 118½ Seventh St., Kaukauna.

The bride graduated from Kaukauna High School. She is employed at Thilmany Pulp and Paper Co. Mr. Rietz graduated from Wrightstown High School.

Valentine Wishes

Pre-dating the Christmas card by some 200 years, a Valentine was the first greeting card. Early ones were handmade, sent only by men and considered firm proposals of marriage.

It was not until years later that cards were produced entirely by machine, with an excellence of design and color that makes them as charming as those past. The invariable in the custom of sending Valentines seems to be the reaction of a damsel on receiving one from her best beau.

Just the sight of "his" card creates a desire to find more ways to look as pretty as those hearts-and-flowers trimmings. And that you will do, if you only think about what appeals most to the male contingent. It cannot be a perfect figure, or red hair, or their beginnings in a plentiful, in-blue eyes. Were that so, few of expensive commodity — good old us would ever be remembered soap suds.

To paraphrase a poet: "If eyes were made of seeing, then Men admire women first and foremost for their femininity — grooming is its own excuse for the daintiness, the fresh fragrance of hair, complexion glow."

Designing Woman

BY ELIZABETH HILLIER

New Carpet Takes Pattern in a Practical New Way

Tufted carpet takes an unexpected plunge into pattern as new floor coverings ready for the stores for spring. Just introduced is a new method of applying pattern to broadloom carpets and rugs that wasn't possible before. Another step by leaders in the carpet industry in making their products more appealing and their prices more practical.

Tufted constructions are widely used, but its styling has been strictly limited—weaving had to produce most detailed design. With the new technique, multi-colored pattern in great variety can be applied in a single operation to tufted carpet, of any fiber, in cut or uncut pile. First examples are sketched. The poster-style small rug bears greetings in five languages on carpet rayon with uncut pile. A provincial block pattern is on wool in a tight, uncut pile and the popular swirl type of pattern applies to nylon which varies the height of uncut pile.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

PRESUMPTUOUS GUEST

A friend invited me and four other women to lunch at a very nice restaurant. At the end of the meal, one of the women insisted on paying for her own and the hostess tried politely to dissuade her. The woman declared, "It's the thing to do in a restaurant that we each pay our own way". She added, "Of course it would be different if we had gone to a club." I have never been confronted with such a situation and wonder if this woman is correct. Please advise.

LOUISE DAVIS ANSWERS:

The woman is very wrong. Your hostess was entertaining with a luncheon. It was her party whether in her home, restaurant, club or anywhere else. No guest should for one moment assume that she pays for her lunch.

Golden Agers' Banquet Has Roaring 20's Theme

NEENAH — Golden Agers from the Twin City area will attend the 11th annual Neenah Golden Age Club anniversary banquet at 6:30 p.m. Monday at Menasha Elks Club. The banquet is sponsored by the Neenah Recreation Department.

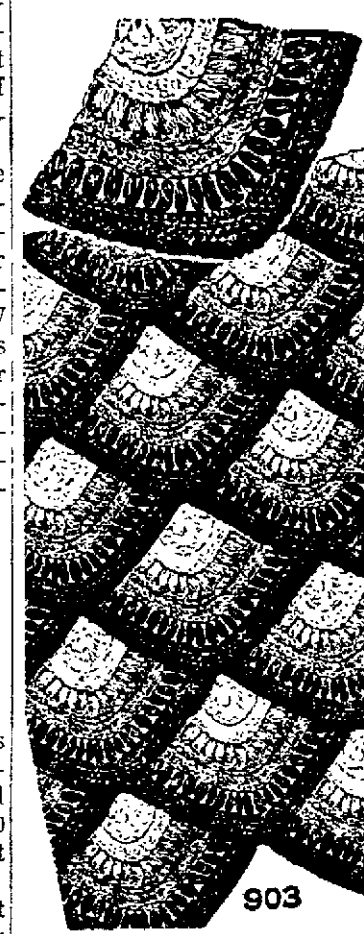

Theme of this year's banquet is "The Roaring Twenties". Mrs. Howard Aderhold will be the accompanist as songs of that era are sung after the dinner. An orchestra will play for dancing beginning at 8 p.m.

Many of the popular features of last year will be repeated. The penny arcade will open at 8 p.m. There will be a series of floor shows interspersed throughout the evening, all with a roaring 20's theme. Punch will be served from 8:15 to 10:30 p.m. and prizes will be awarded throughout the evening.

The first show at 8:30 p.m. will feature the "Forte Fryers", barbershop quartet. At 9 p.m., Fred Nixon, accompanied by Elmer Schultheis will perform a vocal specialty act to be followed by a novelty dance act, by Miss Nancy Sorensen. "A Bit of the 20's." Feats of magic will be performed at 9:30 p.m. by Robert Seiler. The final show is scheduled for 10 p.m. with the stars Betty Bubbles and her Flapperettes. They will present special production numbers from 1920 musical comedies. The banquet closes at 10:30 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased at the recreation office until Friday noon, or until tickets are sold out. Any man or woman 60 years or older is invited to attend.

MONEY TREE

My parents moved to a small town near here after father retired. They will be married 50 years next month and will come back to celebrate the anniversary. We are giving a party for them at our home. Since they are financially hard up, would it be permissible for me to say on the invitations that we are having a money tree?

LOUISE DAVIS ANSWERS:

No. You would actually be asking for money and as a member of the family you would want to avoid that. In so many words, you would be saying to your invited guests, "My parents are hard up. Please bring money instead of gifts." Perhaps you might compromise by having a small family gathering, then give your parents what you would have spent on a larger party.

No Definite Results on Pay TV Test

Financial Success
Of 2-Year-Old Trial
Not Yet Divulged

TORONTO (AP) — Canada's pay TV experiment is beginning its second year—still very much an experiment.

Managers say no conclusions have been reached. They are sitting tight on all information about finances.

The operation began last February with installations in 1,000 homes in Etobicoke, a Toronto suburb. The aim at that time was to have the system in 10,000-12,000 homes by the end of 1960 and in 40,000 eventually.

These goals were discarded after initial studies indicated alterations were needed in equipment. Today there are about 6,000 subscribers.

These goals were discarded after initial studies indicated alterations were needed in equipment. Today there are about 6,000 subscribers.

The project operates under the name of Trans-Canada Telemeter. The system was developed by Paramount Pictures in experiments going back to 1951. Trans Canada Telemeter is owned by a Paramount subsidiary, Famous Players Canadian Corp., which is Canada's biggest distributor of movies.

Perfect Pilot Area
Telemeter's operations chief, William Crampton, cites two main reasons for picking Etobicoke as a pilot area. First, almost everybody in that upper middle class suburb has a TV set and presumably could afford to pay for television viewing if it was made attractive enough. Second, it would be a good testing area since the viewers have the widest choice of free TV in Canada—three Buffalo, N. Y., stations carrying three U.S. networks, a Toronto station of the Canadian Broadcasting Corp. and a privately owned station in Hamilton, Ont.

The idea is primarily to bring the motion picture into the home, an effort to reach people who don't go to movies.

There is no monthly subscription fee. Customers pay $5 for a connection. Then they drop coins into a box whenever they want to watch programs.

Movies ordinarily cost $1. They are shown simultaneously with bookings in neighboring theaters, a little later than downtown showings. In any house the $1 movie can be seen by as many persons as the householder wishes to accommodate in his TV room. The movies are shown in full, without interruptions for commercials. Old children's movies are shown afternoons for 25 cents.

Mostly Quarters
Out of town hockey games, not shown on regular TV, also are screened at $1.

The program is brought in by a wire network, rather than by air. This eliminates the need for any unscrambling gadget.

One of the things holding up final conclusions is the coin box, key to the whole operation. This box, atop a regular TV set, takes nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars. Experience showed that 80 per cent of all coins deposited were quarters. The boxes are now undergoing alterations to enlarge their quarter capacity.

The sponsors are also giving close study to programming to find which shows bring the most coins.

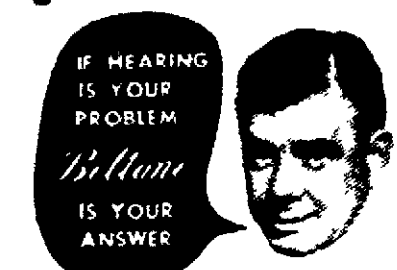

Telemeter officials say they must get an average of $2 a week to pay for installation and daily operating costs. They decline to indicate whether receipts have met this requirement.

They say many applicants are seeking franchises for Telemeter both in Canada and the United States, but action is held up pending completion of the experiment in Etobicoke.

Here's a New Child's Game Called 'Alphabet Trail'

BY CAPPY DICK

Here's a new game for you and your friends to try. You play it with pencil and paper. It is called "Alphabet Trail."

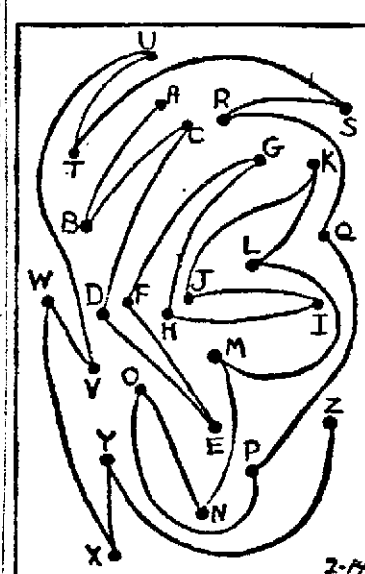

Give each player a pencil and a piece of paper on which to write. All pieces should be the same size.

Explain that each player is to print the letters of the alphabet, from "A" to "Z," on his paper. The letters should be mixed up as much as possible. A good example of how to scatter them all over the paper is shown in the illustration above.

When each player has finished printing the 26 letters, have the papers exchanged so everyone has a sheet lettered by someone else. At a signal, each player uses his pencil to draw a trail that begins at "A," goes to "B," then to "C," and so on until it arrives at the final letter, "Z." The rule is that at no point may the trail cross itself. The first to finish his trail is the winner.

If a player hurries too much, hoping to be the first to finish, he may find he has laid out a trail that actually has fenced in certain letters that cannot be reached without crossing a line. When that happens the player is out of the game. The first player to complete his trail, connecting all 26 letters in correct rotation without crossing the trail at any point, is the winner. The picture above shows how it can be done.

Words Often Misused: "Dear Mr. Jackson" is considered less formal in the salutation of a letter than "My dear Mr. Jackson."

Often Mispronounced: Fecund. Pronounce feh-kund, accent on first syllable.

Often Misspelled: Paeon (hymn of joy or praise); observe the "ae."

Word Study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: quid pro quo: one thing for, in place of, another; tit for tat. "Governmental officials and agencies often employ the bargaining method of quid pro quo."

Broadest Program for Adding to State's Outdoor Resources Seen

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON—A "crash" program to expand outdoor recreational resources in Wisconsin is being drafted for presentation to the legislature by Gov. Gaylord Nelson.

Lawmakers during the next month will be given details of a program, according to several reliable sources, to accelerate significantly the state program of acquiring park lands, wetlands, shore-line space and other properties needed to assure outdoor recreational opportunities for Wisconsin residents and tourist visitors for decades to come.

The governor is also working out a big financing program that will accompany what may be the most comprehensive program in its field ever offered for enactment in this state. Details of the prospective financing, however, have not been hinted.

It is generally speculated that the program will involve some form of general public contributions, as distinguished from the categorical hunting, fishing and trapping fees that have been the bulwark of the Conservation Department's budgeting in the past.

The program won't necessarily be related to the public works blue-prints in the field of conservation that are being up-dated by the conservation administration in anticipation of a possible federal public works anti-recession program, informants said.

It will involve an idea that the governor has been contemplating since he reached the governor's office two years ago, which is described as closer to his heart than any other major policy he has evolved thus far.

Warned of Crisis

During his campaign last fall Nelson spoke from hundreds of platforms about the impending crisis in the state's conservation program, warning that without positive action now for the protection of water and related resources, future generations may regard the leaders and the citizens of the 1960's with the contempt now bestowed upon those who permitted the wasteful exploitation of Wisconsin forests in a previous era.

He repeated the theme in his general legislative message recently, where he hinted at the breadth of the program he is developing.

He said it "will set our state on the path to leadership in preservation and development of our outdoor resources."

"Recreation in our day is not a luxury; it is an essential part of balanced, happy living," he added.

INFECTIOUS DISEASES

According to modern science, germs are the cause of infectious diseases.

What are Germs? Germs or bacteria are defined as single-celled plants. They are so small they can be seen only with the aid of a microscope.

The tubercle bacillus is supposed to cause tuberculosis in an individual. It is a well known fact, however, that the tubercle bacillus is very prevalent, yet only a small percentage of individuals come down with tuberculosis. The tubercle bacillus is often found in the sputum of persons who show no signs of the disease. The corynebacterium diphtheriae, the organism which supposedly causes diphtheria, can be found in the throats of healthy children. Therefore, it cannot be scientifically correct to say that germs are the cause of disease.

Even in a so-called epidemic of measles, not more than ten per cent of the children in a certain school would come down with the disease. Surely, it is not scientific to accept a theory that works in one case out of ten.

Germs can produce disease only when a person has a lowered resistance. Lowered resistance is caused by lack of rest, improper nutrition, poor personal hygiene, but most important, by nerve interference. Spinal misalignments produce pressure on nerves. The nervous system controls all functions of the body. Nerve pressure interferes with the normal nerve supply of organs and tissue, thus lowering resistance and THEN various germs can produce disease. Therefore, it is only logical to conclude that the presence of disease is due to nerve interference caused by spinal misalignment which lowers the resistance of the body.

The trained and experienced Chiropractor is able to determine the exact point of nerve interference in your spine. You'll be surprised at the rapid recovery you'll obtain in such infectious diseases as polio, fevers, mumps, colds, flu, etc., under Chiropractic care.

To Your Good Health Old Fashioned Reward May Make Gasoline Sniffer Stop

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: After reading the letter about the youngster who couldn't be broken of taking pains when I he down at night the cap off the gasoline tank to sniff the stuff, I just have to tell you what happened in 1935. We had a gasoline stove. Mother bought five-gallon cans of gasoline and I did this sniffing too.

"Mama got me a pair of red shoes I wanted so badly and I promised never to do it again, and I did not.

"I am 71, mama is with us yet at 88. — E. H."

And I still don't know why it is so intriguing to sniff gasoline! Probably the practice is not harmful if it isn't done to excess. However, this letter does indicate what a suitable reward can do.

Reward Underrated

We're all duly aware, these days, of the fact that bribery isn't the way to bring up children. At the same time, I do have a strong suspicion that we sometimes put too much emphasis on the term "bribery" and too little on the old-fashioned word "reward."

It's true that we can't go through life expecting to be paid, or bribed, for every good you do not fall in the elderly category.

But at the same time, it is perfectly in keeping with human motivation to expect to be rewarded you believe. Phlebitis deserves for doing good work, just as we continued treatment over an extended time. Not radical or frequent treatment, but continued, moderate care is necessary, not only to let the affected area heal, but to relieve strain on other veins near it.

Note to Mrs. W. U.: Heart murmurs are quite common in childhood and other features. If dangerous murmurs are present, they mean the doctor to a more intensive examination, searching for a "murmur" but there is no underlying heart disease. These heart disorder. There is no cause for alarm from a purely functional murmur.

Good Test Grades Can't Be Attained By Cram Sessions

BY LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D., with HARRY KARNS
Today we are going to outline a plan that will help you get better grades on examinations.
First, let's look at a sad scene.
Place: College dormitory.
Time: The eve of semester exams.
Glassy-eyed, hollow-cheeked youths sit staring at books and notes amid coffee cups, cigarette butts and sandwich scraps, trying to learn in a single night what they should have been learning in the past four and one-half months.

From their early days of high school to their last days of college, American students gear their study habits to the cram session. The idea is to skim the surface from day to day and catch up with a one-night blaze of intellectualism.
But the blaze somehow is never quite that hot.

Harold was a student at State College. He lived in a fraternity house. In each part of his daily study he had in the back of his mind that morbidly pleasant social event at the fraternity house on the night before examinations.

This led him unerringly to a "C" average balanced precariously on the brink of "D."
We suggested that he get off the cram system and start a program of systematic study.

No More Cramming
He tried it. At semester's end we asked him how he was doing. He had made "A's" in all his tests.

"So — no more cramming?"
Harold smiled sheepishly. "Well, to tell the truth, I don't cram anymore, personally. But the guys at the frat house sort of expect a fellow to show up at the cram sessions. So, I — er — well, I stay up with them all night."
We shook our head disapprovingly, but Harold added brightly: "Anyway, I make better grades than they do even though I do lose all that sleep."
Your preparations for exam day should not be an effort to sponge up everything at once. They should be an organized review, over a period of several days, of what you have been sponging up (we hope) all along.

Essay Examinations
Now we are going to suggest ways of doing this review. Since different types of exams require slightly different methods, we will deal with several types separately.
Some courses, literature for example, lean heavily to exams of the essay type. In preparing for this type of exam try these steps.

1. Review the big, general pattern of the subject to be covered. Do this by reading the table of contents of the textbook and skimming through the chapters, looking at paragraph headings and summaries.
2. Go back through the table of contents, the chapter headings, and the summaries, asking yourself the questions and answering them. Make a question about each item in the table of contents. Write out answers to the questions you feel are more likely to be asked on the test.
3. Improve on your answers. Go over them with an eye for making them more exact. Go back over your lecture notes and the marginal notes in your book.

Penmanship Important

Essay-type tests require considerable writing, so at this point we want to stress once more how important it is to learn the art of penmanship. The physical act of writing should not be such a labor that it forms a barrier to the easy, swift and precise expression of the thought.
Bill, a freshman at a large university, came to us holding a report card with a "D" in English like a dead toad on the end of a stick. He was on the track team and, thanks to a sensible coach, had developed his legs pretty well. But somehow no sensible teacher had ever thought of teaching him to develop the fingers that held his pen.

We readied Bill for the next English exam by having him write a short paragraph over and over again for about 20 minutes each day. In four days his penmanship improved markedly and of Shylock in the Merchant of Venice.

Send for the booklet NOW!

On the fifth day he got "B" on his exam.
When you relate persons to events, shape a picture in your mind instead of merely memorizing some words. It helps some- times to exaggerate the picture to make a caricature of the personalities involved.
When you think of "Teddy" how to prepare for exam day.)

Motorist From Wedding Pays On 4 Charges

KAUKAUNA — Edward Phillips, 19, route 1, DePere, found acting up at weddings in Kaukauna an expensive mistake over the weekend after pleading guilty to four violations and being fined $55 by Oscar T. Jahns, justice of the peace.

Phillips paid $25 for reckless driving, $10 for parking on the wrong side of the street, $10 for backing down the roadway in a business district and $10 for unnecessary use of the horn. In addition 11 points were charged against his record toward revocation of his driver's license, according to police.

Harold V. Engerson, chief of police, warned all motorists driving for weddings about strict adherence to traffic laws. Heavy vehicular and pedestrian traffic today is hazardous enough without the addition of "show off" at wedding parties, the chief said.

State Cigarette Tax Income Up in 1960

MADISON — With Wisconsin cigarette sales increasing during the last year, state cigarette tax revenue rose to a new high figure of about $23,000,000. Wisconsin tobacco products sales gained about five and one half per cent over the previous year. The distribution in the state included 450,000 packages of cigarettes.

Roosevelt as the robust, buck-toothed, delighted leader of the Rough Riders, a whole flood of memories of his traits and the events of his administration pours through the mind.
Napoleon wore a three-cornered hat and posed with his hand in his tunic. FDR clenched a cigarette holder in his teeth. John L. Lewis has shaggy eyebrows. These are some of the more obvious caricatures, but they suggest how or to more obscure personalities which it is your duty to remember.

Make Associations

When you get ready for a literature exam, you are faced with the problem of linking characters, authors and settings and the names of books. Connect the author's name with each character and each situation.

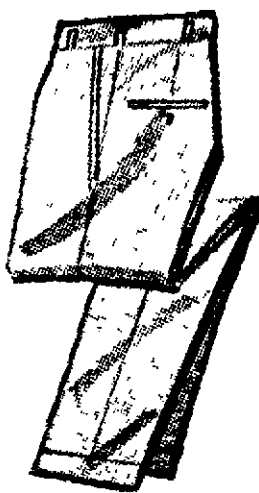

Thus: "Shakespeare developed a real skinflint in his character of Shylock in the Merchant of Venice."

Associate other characters in the play with Shylock. Study their effects on him and his on them. Remember, the more systematic you tie things together in your mind, the easier it is to retimes to exaggerate the picture, call them when you need them on to make a caricature of the personalities involved.

Neenah Street Job Costing $278,175 To Begin by May 1

Manitowoc Firm Low Bidder for S. Commercial Reconstruction

NEENAH — Complete reconstruction of S. Commercial Street, from 1st to 10th Sts., in Neenah from Winneconne Street south for 1.98 miles probably will begin by May 1, according to the state highway commission office.

Bids for the work were opened this morning in Madison, and have been reviewed by the commission. Gov. Gaylord Nelson is expected to sign the contract in a few days.

Low bidder was Schuette Builders, Manitowoc, for $278,175.

Second low bidder was Lee Parker, Appleton, for $279,082. Third lowest was Wieseler Construction Co., Appleton, at $281,588.

The contract calls for work to be completed in five months, and includes grading, base course and concrete pavement.

The reconstructed street will be 48 feet wide, compared to the present 31 feet. It will have two 12-foot traffic lanes, two 10-foot parking lanes and 3½-foot terraces.

Tree Program
Some of the trees in the terraces have been cut and the remainder will come down. After the street is finished the city will undertake a tree planning program.

Low bids totaling $7,282,321 for road construction jobs in five other Wisconsin counties were opened by the commission.

Bids are subject to review by the commission before contracts can be signed.

Largest single jobs will be in Milwaukee County for two storm-sewers at the zoo interchange of the East-West Expressway. Each bid was more than a million dollars.

The projects also included general construction, involving grading, base course and concrete pavement on less than a mile of the Wisconsin approach to the new Superior-Duluth, Minn., bridge on Interstate 535 and State Highway 35. Seven bids were entered and

2-Year Agreement At Badger Northland Includes Pay Hikes

KAUKAUNA — A two-year working contract, retroactive to Jan. 1, 1961, was negotiated recently by a three-man bargaining committee of Badger Northland Employees Association and officials of the firm.

For 1961 employees were granted a nine-cent per hour wage increase plus a two and four-cent increase in hourly shift differential bringing the differential to seven and 14 cents. Also approved was an increase in the company's contribution for hospital and medical insurance, increased incentive payments and an additional one-half day paid holiday per year.

1962 Contract
For 1962 the contract calls for an increase of 10 cents per hour in pay and adoption of a retirement program. Members of the bargaining committee for the Association were Daniel Baeten, president, Richard Andres and Bernard Vander Sten.

Representing Badger Northland was Vincent Rohlf, president, Karl Kuehn and Marcel Lamers. In November, 1960, employees rejected a bid by the United Steel Workers of America for representation, preferring to continue with the Employees Association.

Ravine Parking Lot May Not Develop

Owners Ask $2.50 a Square Foot; Bringing Land Cost to $450,000; City Appraisal Was $60,000

Owners of land in the Division-Packard Street ravine, which the city wants to buy for a parking lot, want $2.50 a square foot.

"That's our rock bottom price, or it's no deal," the 11 owners involved told several members of the board of public works last night.

The reaction from a number of aldermen is that development of the ravine into a parking lot may pass by the wayside, and a ramp built instead.

An appraisal the city had made put the price at nearly $60,000. The square foot price varies from 25 to 35 cents.

But the property owners vehemently opposed this appraised value, and said it is ridiculously low.

The area the city would buy comes to approximately 175,000 square feet. At $2.50 a foot the parking lot would cost the city nearly $450,000 for the land alone.

This is nearly half the estimated cost of a parking ramp.

Aldermen Opposed

There were about 12 aldermen in city hall last night at three separate committee meetings. Those who heard about the $2.50 price just shook their heads. "That kills that," some said.

"We should have bought the ravine before the city filed it," another commented. "Now we'd be paying for our own fill."

"If the land is worth that much we'll have to send City Assessor John Pierre over there with instructions to raise all the assessed valuations," a third councilman commented.

"Maybe we should go to court with condemnations proceedings," one alderman said this morning.

The property owners criticized the three local real estate men who made the appraisal—Norman Hall, Robert Kennedy and Otto Bytof.

Not Qualified

"These men are not qualified to make that appraisal," Gordon Vandinter, operator of Van's Realty, asserted. "You three men could do as good a job," he said, pointing to Mayor Clarence Mitchell, Ald. Robert Stumpf and Director of Public Works Edwin Duszynski.

Vandinter and Lloyd Wolf own a 7,700 square foot area in the ravine.

Wolf wanted to know what criteria the appraisers had used. Mayor Mitchell said he believed

Named by Optimists

New 'Boy of Month' Is Farm Hand, Carrier

A young man whose ambition and enthusiasm extends from homework to paper route to farm chores won the second Optimist Club boy of the month award given at a meeting of the Breakfast Optimists this morning.

David Rathack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Quintin Rathack, route 1, Appleton, is a freshman at Xavier High School whose work in religion, world history, English, algebra, and first year Latin takes about three hours a night. But he has above average grades in spite of some other time-consuming activities.

The paper route is something Dave himself, with a little inspiration from his mother, is responsible for starting and maintaining.

Came to Post-Crescent
Mrs. Rathack and Dave approached the Post-Crescent in August, 1958, about a route in the area of their farm on U.S. 10, and though the Post-Crescent was Xavier band except that rehearsal somewhat dubious, the Rathacks said after school, and the paper route comes first.

But what he does, he does cheerfully and well, as a number the Rathacks moved to a farm of rural Post-Crescent readers a little further from Appleton, and Xavier teachers and the rest Dave just expanded his route out of the Rathack family can testify.

These things restrict Dave's school activities—he plays the clarinet, and would be in the though the Post-Crescent was Xavier band except that rehearsal somewhat dubious, the Rathacks said after school, and the paper route comes first.

Four Superintendency Hopefuls Will Talk

Fenelon, Gibson, Rothwell, Wollenberg To Appear Together at Appleton School

Three Appleton organizations are combining efforts to present a public discussion of "Issues in Education" by four candidates for state superintendent of public instruction at Jefferson School auditorium at 8 p.m. March 2.

Dr. William J. Fenelon, Ralph M. Gibson, Angus B. Rothwell and Arlyn Wollenberg have accepted invitations to participate in the program sponsored jointly by Appleton City Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, American Association of University Women and League of Women Voters.

The meeting will be divided into two portions. First, the various candidates will present their views on education issues. Then a panel from the sponsoring organizations will ask specific questions. This probably will be one of a few times during the campaign that four candidates will appear on the same platform.

Moderator will be Dr. Edwin H. Olson. Panel members will be Mrs. Homer Malmstrom, Mrs. Merton Sealts, and Dr. Edward F. Thode. Arrangements for the meeting are being made by Mrs. J. H. Conkey and Mrs. Paul Cundy for AAUW, Mrs. Arch Hoffman and Mrs. Peter Nelson for LWV and Dr. Thode for PTA Council.

No, That's Not a Log Cabin built on the top of the Wisconsin Telephone Co., but just a temporary framework of cribbing used to get heavy equipment on the roof for work on the building addition. The cribbing went up Friday and Monday and was taken down today. The crane was photographed from the roof of the Post-Crescent. The crane has a 160-foot boom.

Ask Resolution Vacating Part Of E. John St.

Western Condensing Intends to Build New Warehouse

Appleton City Council will be asked Wednesday to order a resolution to vacate a portion of E. John Street, between Western Condensing Co. and Badger Plug Co.

The street and sanitation committee will request the resolution.

Representatives of both firms and their attorneys appeared at the committee meeting Monday to explain why they want the area vacated.

The two firms are located across the street from each other. Western Condensing Co. has an option to buy Badger Plug Co., and would like to build a warehouse across the present street right-of-way, to connect its present plant with the Badger building when it acquires that property.

Badger Plug plans to move to a new location, and is in the process of acquiring land.

Dead-end Street

East John Street dead-ends on the west side of the Fox River since the new College Avenue high-level bridge was built, and starts again on the east side of the river.

The city would get easements for underground utilities.

The committee approved water, sewer, grade and gravel for a 132-foot section of Murray Avenue, between Jackson and Carpenter Streets.

The request for this work from Ald. Robert Stumpf was turned down two weeks ago, because of a surface water drainage problem.

Stumpf, in whose ward the street is, appeared at the committee meeting and said the property owners are aware of the problem, but are willing to put up with it to get the street put in.

The problem arises because the street is not completely open to the east, and the storm sewer

Jury Awards Brown County Driver $17,500

Finds Him 30 Pct. Negligent in Crash With Gresham Man

OSHKOSH — A Circuit Court jury Friday set damages to William Lackershire, Little Suamico, at $17,500 but found him to be 30 per cent negligent in an accident with Paul W. Heins, route 1, Gresham, on state 26 in Winnebago County Dec. 23, 1958.

Both men were driving trucks. Heins was found to be 70 per cent negligent. The decision came after three days of taking testimony in three companion suits.

Medical expenses for Lackershire totaling $1,447, also were set, but the jury held that another $1,460 in medical expenses incurred last August and September was not a result of the accident.

Stipulations

Hartland Fire Insurance Co., insurers of Rent-a-Truck, Inc., owners of the truck Lackershire was driving, was awarded $4,669 by a stipulation and the Rent-a-Truck co., was given $1,859 under a stipulation.

Defendants were Heins, his employer, the Hoffman Transit Co., Gresham, and its insurer, Rural Mutual Casualty Co. The Hoffman Transit Co. was given $959 for system is designed to drain the water to the east.

Water, sewer, grade and gravel were approved for N. Elinor Street and N. Nicholas Street, from Lindbergh to Pershing Streets.

The same was approved for Prospect Street from Seminole Road to the west end of Arrowhead Subdivision.

A request to turnover and seal coat of Jackson Street from McKinley to South River Streets was denied. Committeemen said the street has never been graded and graveled. It is a cinder street, they noted.

No Meeting

Board President John Fitzpatrick told Neely the board had not held any meetings between Dec. 12 and 27.

Neely further said he disagreed with section 289 of the Wisconsin laws of 1959 session, which out-damage to its truck under a stipulation.

The awards set for Heins were $4,000 for loss of earnings, $10,000 for loss of future earnings and $3,500 for personal injuries. He had asked $50,000.

Challenges Pact for Menasha School Chief

Board Member Neely Says Action Contradicted Group's Decision

MENASHA — Action by the board of education Dec. 27 in approving a new contract for Supt. of Schools M. J. Gegan was challenged as improper by Ted Neely at last night's board meeting.

Neely, who was absent from that meeting because of illness, spoke on a point of personal privilege to criticize the contract approval, which he said was in contradiction to an informal agreement made Dec. 12 in a 3½-hour executive session.

Neely claimed he and others on the board agreed without dissent Dec. 12 that Gegan's contract would be extended for one year at the current rate of pay.

Other Provisions

At the Dec. 27 meeting, Neely said, the motion was made by William Snyder on those terms. But the motion was amended, to allow a pay increase and a 3-year contract term, despite Snyder's wish to withdraw his motion.

Under Roberts' Rules of Order, Neely contended, the motion's withdrawal by its maker was proper without anyone's permission and only "common courtesy."

Neely said the board's refusal to allow Snyder to withdraw his motion was improper.

Neely said he regretted formal action had not been taken immediately after the closed session Dec. 12, when everyone was in agreement.

A desertion charge against Zimmerman was dismissed last Wednesday after his wife said they were reconciled. He was arraigned on that charge Jan. 31.

The airline's quota for January was 338 boardings. There were 93 flights and no cancellations due to weather.

Last month 725 pounds of air mail were sent and 1,654 were received, 641 pounds of air express were sent and 1,007 were received, and 2,004 pounds of air freight were sent and 714 received.

Youth Who Shot Self Clings to Life in Hospital

GREEN BAY—Dennis Seidl, 18, clung to life today in a Green Bay hospital where he was taken early Monday after a shotgun discharge which he admitted was self-inflicted.

Hospital authorities reported late this morning that he showed some improvement but still is in critical condition. His chances to pull through was described as "still in doubt."

Dennis lost a great quantity of blood as he lay severely wounded in his bedroom for perhaps a half hour or 45 minutes before his parents found him, authorities said.

Milwaukee Road Seeks Cutback In Train Service

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Mil- waukee Road is losing $2.5 million annually by continuing passenger service on its Olympian Hiawatha between Minneapolis and Seattle- Tacoma, Wash. R. N. Edman, the rail's chief accountant testif- ied Monday.

Edman also charged the train run has no public support and that continuing it would create an undue burden on interstate com- merce. Edman's testimony came as first-day hearings wound up in the road's request before the In- terstate Commerce Commission to halt passenger service on Trains 15 and 16.

C. E. Crippen, railroad assist- ant president, offered exhibits de- signed to show that communities now serviced by the Olympian Hiawatha have adequate trans- portation service through buses and planes.

Taking the stand for the com- plainants, Ronald Fletcher, gen- eral traffic manager for Time, Inc., said the stoppage would cost his company $200,000 annually and would slow magazine delivery service by one day.

The Olympian Hiawatha runs 1,806 miles through six states west of Minneapolis, including Minne- sota. The railroad says it plans no change in passenger service between Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Protesting the discontinuance, are various civic groups, private shippers, railway labor groups and state commissions from both Dakotas, Minnesota, Montana and Illinois.

Old Valentines In Weyauwega Bring Nostalgia

Teacher's Display Abounds With Lace, Cupids, Flowers

WEYAUWEGA — Visitors to the Weyauwega Elementary School get a nostalgic feeling for "the good old days" when they view the old-fashioned valentines now gracing the bulletin board in the school's entry way.

The conversation pieces belong to Mrs. Gladys Rieck, seventh and eighth grade instructor. Her late husband and his two brothers, al- brothers, Warren A. Buchanan, 19, who deceased, received the valen- and Carl, 18, admitted yesterday times in the 1905-10 period.

The many shaped valentines abound with flowers, lace and Cu- pids aiming at their beloveds. Not one uses the modern day pun to attract its recipient. Instead the stand-up cards and double folds speak of constant love, affection's offering and love's greeting.

A typical, sentimental verse reads:

"Without love's gate I stand, Alas that it should be, Of that enchanted land, Sweetheart thou has the key O bid the golden gates unfold And bless with me a bliss un- told."

The collection includes more than 50 cards of various sizes and shapes.

Letter to Pat

Kennedy Wishes Stricken Boy a Speedy Recovery

NEW LONDON — Pat Muska, 6, with most of his body wrapped in bandages after he burned more than 90 per cent of his body Aug. 31, forgot his pain for a short time Monday when he received a letter from President Kennedy wishing him a speedy recovery.

The long hours of lying in bed also will seem shorter for Pat for the next few days, because Monday he also received hundreds of valentines made by school children from many parts of Wisconsin.

Pat has had four skin grafts and many more are scheduled. He still requires one unit of blood plasma every other day. In spite of all the pain he has gone through, nurses at the Community Hospital say he is a model patient.

Paralyzed Side

A convulsion or a stroke after his second skin graft paralyzed Pat's left side and he still has not regained the use of his left hand.

Pat is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Muskavitch, route 1, Shiocton. He was burned when he and his brother Mike, 7, were playing with gasoline in a coffee can. He was engulfed in flames

Urges Halt in Wage Hikes to Curb Inflation

Allen-Bradley Economist Speaks at Rural-Industry Day

OSHKOSH — One way to halt the wage-price inflationary spiral is to stop and stop soon the annual round of wage increases which has priced American industry out of foreign markets and increased unemployment in this country, Ralph W. Ellis, chief economist of Allen-Bradley Co., Milwaukee, told 120 farmers and industrialists yesterday at the first rural - industry day.

Speaking at a noon dinner after rural leaders toured two Oshkosh industries, Morgan Co., and Rockwell - Standard Corp., the speaker forecast a showdown in 1962 of the inflationary spiral.

May Curtail Powers

American firms have increased their foreign investments in the last 10 years from $12 billion to $30 billion and have been exporting jobs at an ever increasing rate, he said.

Unless labor leaders change their ideas that the productivity of labor belongs to labor and not to the public and that the federal government should inflate the money supply 1 or 3 per cent each year, the American public will have to curtail their powers.

Under labor's theory, the productivity of labor should result in increased wages. This has led to price increases, a lessening in demand for products and a decline in the number of jobs. The old theory was that the benefits of labor's productivity went to the public in lower prices which increased the demand and thus increased employment.

One cause of inflation, he said, has been that labor leaders have become so powerful they could force the federal government to bail them out whenever their excessive demands caused unemployment and depression.

Athletic Auxiliary To Plan Activities

MENASHA — The ladies auxiliary of Menasha Athletic Association, a newly-organized group, will meet at 7:30 p.m. today at the MAC clubrooms at 144 Main St., Menasha.

Officers will be elected at the session and plans for the future will be discussed.

Money Orders Protected by Balking Safe

NEENAH — If Neenah post office patrons have to wait to purchase money orders today they can lay the blame on a balky safe.

The door on the walk-in safe at the north end of the post office refused to budge this morning when postal employees attempted to open it to get the money orders kept there.

A crew with acetylene torches was called in at 7:30 a.m. to cut through the door. By 10:30 a.m. two holes had been cut, one near the combination and one at the base of the door.

The tumblers were then correctly set but in doing so anti-burglar bars were released, locking the door more securely than ever.

Now the problem is how to cut the bars without setting off the tear gas bomb inside of the safe door.

Two Drunken Drivers Fined To Lose Licenses

Edward Zastrow, Eugene B. Krahn To Lose Licenses

One Appleton man pleaded guilty of drunken driving and another was found guilty of the same offense in separate court appearances in Oshkosh and Appleton.

They are Edward Zastrow, 42, 1347 W. Pine St., and Eugene B. Krahn, 29, 327 E. Atlantic St.

Zastrow entered a plea of guilty when he appeared before Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane at Oshkosh. He was fined $100. Zastrow was arrested at 6:35 p.m. Sunday by the state patrol who saw him driving erratically. He tested .23 on the breathalyzer.

Krahn was fined $125 by Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmieg in Appleton. He was arrested at 1:20 a.m. Saturday after his car struck a parked car in the 100 block of N Durkee Street. Krahn tested .27 on the drunkometer. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

Both men will lose their driver licenses for one year.

U.S., Britain Relations Take Turn for Worse

Statement Saying Red China Must be Seated 'Criticized'

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Relations between the United States and Great Britain, which until recent months have been at a high point of friendship, have suddenly taken a turn for the worse. It could mean the rise of anti-British feeling in this country to an extent not witnessed for a half-century or more.

For the British delivered a body blow not only at the policies of the United States but at the future integrity of the United Nations itself when Lord Home, the British foreign secretary, told the House of Commons that Red China must be seated in the U.N.

This startling statement has already been criticized by a spokesman for the department of state here, but the wonder is that the British government allowed such a pronouncement ever to be made. For, if the London government has decided to ignore the Communist aggression in the Korean war and, in effect, reward the aggressor by giving it a seat in the U.N., it is certain to cause many members of Congress to ask that the entire relationship between this country and Great Britain be examined anew.

No Suggestions

Incidentally, the United States has not said a thing about the continued presence of Great Britain in the colony of Hong Kong. Despite all the talk about the undesirability of "colonialism," no suggestions have been offered here that the British give up their rights on the mainland of China and recognize the rights of the Chinese people in Hong Kong. For, if it is illogical to oppose admission of Red China to the U.N. because it allegedly represents the Chinese people, it is similarly illogical for the British to maintain possession of a single inch of territory on the Chinese mainland.

Giving up Hong Kong would, however, be costly to the trade interests of Great Britain. It is even suspected here that British policy keeps hammering away at the proposal to seat Red China in the U.N. as a move designed largely to appease the Peiping regime and persuade it not to make an issue of the Hong Kong question.

It may be that the London government—which, in the last few years, has avoided giving offense to the United States on the issue of admitting Red China to the U.N.—has come to the conclusion that perhaps the Kennedy administration is getting ready anyhow to recognize Red China or to abandon its opposition to seating the Peiping regime in the U.N. Some impromptu remarks recently by Adlai Stevenson, newly appointed American ambassador to the U.N., indicating a belief that the United States may lose the fight in the U.N. against admitting Red China, may have started the ball rolling in London. Also, Hugh Gaitskill, leader of the British Socialist Labor Party, who was here for the Kennedy inauguration, said some significant things about admitting Red China to the U.N. when he appeared in a television debate with Rep. Walter Judd of Minnesota—an archfoe of giving Red China a seat in the U.N.

From that exchange, it was apparent that Gaitskill expects the United States now to change its policy. Rumors to this effect have been widespread, and there have been several hints by some of Kennedy's counselors that the United States is licked and might as well "bow to the inevitable."

Not a word in support of this theory, however, has come from either President Kennedy or Secretary of State Rusk.

Prestige at Stake

The future prestige of the U.N. itself is really at stake. For if, after adopting—as it did in 1951—a resolution formally declaring Red China the aggressor in Korea, the world organization now ignores this international crime, of what avail will its moral voice ever be hereafter?

As has been repeatedly pointed out by officials here, the Red Chinese will never consent to sopping their war against Formosa until they have driven out the nationalists. If Red China gets into the U.N., it would be by vote in the general assembly. Would it be possible for the nationalist government to remain in the security council, where "China" is designated as a permanent member? Certainly the Red Chinese wouldn't agree to "two Chinas."

The net effect might be to give here that the British give up their rights on the mainland of China and recognize the rights of the Chinese people in Hong Kong. For, if it is illogical to oppose admission of Red China to the U.N. because it allegedly represents the Chinese people, it is similarly illogical for the British to maintain possession of a single inch of territory on the Chinese mainland.

Has the British government taken all this into account? In this connection, members of Congress have read with amazement the information revealed in a public speech by James D. Zellerbach, who has just retired as Ambassador to Italy. He said that Great Britain and some other partners in NATO are "lending a knife" to the Soviet Union "to cut our collective throats." He declared that trade credits extended by Western European countries, including Great Britain, have enabled the Russians to free an equal amount of their financial resources to wage economic competition with the West in Asia, Latin America and Africa.

Certainly Anglo-American policies are in need of review, and maybe that's why Prime Minister Macmillan in April will be the first of the top men of Europe to come to meet with President Kennedy in Washington.

Kansas State, Bearcat '5s' Keep Rising

Bucks, Bonnies Continue to Top AP Cage Poll

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The continued rise of Cincinnati and Kansas State to positions of national prominence marked this week's voting in The Associated Press basketball poll as Ohio State and St. Bonaventure continued to hold the top two places.

Apparently nothing is going to disturb the Buckeyes (18-0) and the Bonnies (18-1) unless they get beaten. Meanwhile, the two teams from the powerful midlands conferences keep moving up, and they could be ready to hand out those lickings by the time the NCAA tournament rolls around.

For the ninth straight week Ohio State drew all the first place votes of the AP panel of sports writers and broadcasters for a perfect 360 point score. St. Bonaventure had 35 second-place votes and one third for 323 points.

Scoring is on the basis of 10 points for first, 9 for second, etc. Voting is based on results through last Saturday.

Cincinnati, not even in the top 10 two weeks ago, moved up to fourth, as it moved to the front in the Missouri Valley Conference race. The Bearcats (17-3) were fifth last week. Kansas State (15-3) held 10th place in mid-January, dropped out for a week and then climbed back to sixth this week.

Others receiving votes: Mississippi State, St. John's, N.Y.; Kansas, Memphis State, U.C.L.A., Utah, Purdue, Louisville, St. Joseph's Pa., Wichita, Drake, South Carolina, Vanderbilt, Kentucky, Providence.

"Lending a Knife"

Has the British government taken all this into account? In this connection, members of Congress have read with amazement the information revealed in a public speech by James D. Zellerbach, who has just retired as Ambassador to Italy. He said that Great Britain and some other partners in NATO are "lending a knife" to the Soviet Union "to cut our collective throats." He declared that trade credits extended by Western European countries, including Great Britain, have enabled the Russians to free an equal amount of their financial resources to wage economic competition with the West in Asia, Latin America and Africa.

Three Viking Freshmen Set Swim Marks

Three Viking frosh records were set Saturday as the Lawrence College freshmen swimming team defeated the Beloit freshmen, 50-37, in a dual meet in Beloit.

Lawrence's Mike Hartong captured the 100-yard free style in a clocking of :55.6, breaking a 19-year-old record of :56.0 set by Smith in 1942. The Vikings' Pete Kochwieser won the 200-yard breast stroke in 2:42.7. That bettered a standard of 2:44.9 established by Walt Isaac earlier this year.

And, Pete Betzer of Lawrence finished second in the 200-yard back stroke with a time of 2:27.5. That lowered his own record clocking of 2:32.7.

Other Lawrence winners were: Steve Wilson, diving; Ken Beinar, 50-yard free style, :25.0; and the 400-yard medley relay team of Betzer, Kochwieser, Isaac and Hartong.

Dischinger Holds Slim Lead Over Lucas in Scoring

CHICAGO (AP) — Terry Dischinger of Purdue maintained his slim lead over Jerry Lucas of Ohio State in the Big Ten all-games scoring race.

Dischinger has 494 points in 18 games for a 26.8 average. Lucas, who set a conference scoring record with 48 points against Michigan State Saturday, has 468 points in 18 games and a 26.0 average.

Don Nelson of Iowa is third with 377 points in 17 games and a 22.1 average followed by Indiana's Walt Bellamy with 364 points in 17 games and a 21.4 average.

Tells of World Meet

Mayasich Says Bobcats Will Play in League Next Season

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — The Bobcats would be a worthy representative of Uncle Sam in the World Hockey Championship in Geneva, Switzerland March 3-11.

In fact, Bobcat Coach John Mayasich told more than 500 at the St. Agnes Church Holy Name father-son breakfast Sunday morning, "I feel the team we have in Green Bay could do a better job than the team that is being organized to play for our country. I regret that seven or eight of our players aren't playing with the United States team." Mayasich will join the squad in Geneva about Feb. 27 if his injured shoulder is okay.

It's possible, the former all-American said, the Bobcats could represent Green Bay in the 1962 world games. Green Bay will get a look at some of this country's opposition next season.

Finland and Sweden "We expect to have a number of European teams play in the arena next year, including the Russians. Finland and Sweden also might play here as well as Japan," he said.

The United States hockey team has been taking its lumps in exhibition play in Europe in recent days. "Why could we do so well in the last olympics and now look so bad?" Mayasich asked. "Only three members of that team will be in Switzerland—Paul Johnson (former Bobcat), Larry Palmer, a substitute goalie, and myself. Several members of that team turned pro and of course can't play. Jack McCartan, our great goalie who was responsible for us winning, went with the Rangers and then was sent out. Tom Williams went with a Canadian pro team and the Christian brothers turned pro. The others have jobs and can't get away. "It's tough playing in those Switzerland games and take such beatings because our country should have the best team available. Other countries have full-time hockey players and are at an advantage," he said.

Mayasich was hoarse and had trouble speaking loud enough. He explained: "I'd rather play than sit on the bench and yell my lungs out." John injured his shoulder Feb. 5 and didn't suit up for the Bobcats' battle against Minneapolis Friday night.

In a question-answer period after his talk, fathers and sons wanted to know about the Bobcats plans for next year. "We'll be in a league of some kind. We learned our lesson this year. You've got to play in a league."

The Bobcats, idle over the weekend after their big 7-4 victory over the Millers, return to action against the St. Paul Saints of the International League at the arena Thursday night.

Three Soviets Arrive for Track Meets

High-Jumper Brumel to Resume Duel With Thomas

NEW YORK (AP) — Valery Brumel, who cleared a fabulous 7 feet, 4 1/2 inches in the high jump last month said today he's ready to resume his battle with John Thomas to decide the greatest jumper in history.

The 18-year-old Brumel, along with two other Soviet athletes — broad jumper Igor Ter-Ovanesyan and distance runner Evgeny Motkov — arrived Monday night for three meets here starting with the New York Athletic Club games Friday.

Brumel who beat Thomas in the Olympics in Rome last year, was full of praise for his American rival.

After the New York Athletic Club meet the three Russians will be entered in the National AAU Championships a week from Saturday and the Knights of Columbus games on March 3.

Open Valentine Goes To Playhouse 'Angel'

New York Tax Expert Buys Summer Theater Property Near Fish Creek

BY JINGO
This column has lace around it and a plush pin-cushion center; not only in honor of the day, but because of the sentiments it will try to convey.

This valentine is addressed to Kenneth Carroard of New York City and should be signed by Jingo and everyone who has an interest in living theater in the northeast of Wisconsin.

Carroard is the recipient of our very best wishes because he bid in the Peninsula Players property at the sheriff's sale Saturday and stayed the final curtain from falling on one of our area's most widely publicized cultural assets.

The recent trouble at the Fish Creek theater has awakened some thoughts of what things would be like without its services and directed attention to the natural endowments of the area for cultural pursuits.

Carroard was forced to his final bid, nearly $10,000 above the amount needed to satisfy the theater's debts, by another out-of-state bidder interested in keeping the theater going. There were rumors there would be front men bidding for other theatrical interests, including the University of Wisconsin.

If all of these interests are not discouraged, perhaps Carroard and the Players — old or new ones he may bring in — will have some competition and we all will benefit for their addition.

There is one thing sure, if the Players get into trouble again, it won't be because of ignorance of the tax law — that's Carroard's bread and butter — a pretty dramatic job at that.

The question to fluoridate or not to fluoridate has been raised in the Fox Cities area from time to time and there really isn't any end of the controversy in sight as long as a relatively small number of residents can put the question on the ballot. Both sides of the question have been aired in the press several times thoroughly, now NBC's "The Nation's Picture" will give the controversy another airing Saturday.

The seasons come and go, and soon we realize the "new" TV shows aren't really new; but the height of something will be reached Feb. 27 when NBC "premieres" "Acapulco" in the "Kloning" time slot. There is a promise of a plot change and the setting change is obvious, but the cast will move from one show to the other.

When freedom of expression and censorship clash head-on, strange things can happen. In London, recently, perhaps the strangest happened. The censors clipped two scenes from a movie, "Saturday Night and Sunday Morning." Then BBC-TV in a diving horse number, in which a beautiful young woman and her mount plunge 40 feet into a special tank built for this event. There is the sensational Bettina, from South America, in a startling spectacle of acrobatics atop a 60 foot sway-pole, the flying Malkos, doing double twists, somersaults and hand-overs on the trapeze high above the Arena floor, and Evelyn Currie, the only female wild animal trainer, with a cage full of wild animals, including the famous Tignons — half tiger and half lion.

The show will open next Monday night with a sell-out house which has been taken over by an oil company. From Feb. 21 through Feb. 25 there will be 2:30 p.m. matinees and evening performances at 8 p.m. There also will be a 2:30 matinee on Sunday, Feb. 26.

Arthur G. Stranen, route 1, Appleton, is in charge of ticket sales in the Fox Cities area. Also available by mail in advance, tickets may be obtained at the Milwaukee Arena box office, which is open from noon to 8 p.m. daily.

Artists Series

Pianist to Present Program Of 18th, 19th Century Music

A program of 18th and 19th century music will be played by Gary Graffman, young American pianist, for his appearance on the Lawrence Community Artist Series in Memorial Chapel at 8:15 p.m. Thursday.

Major works are the J. S. Bach Partita No. 2 in C minor and Moussorgsky's Pictures at an Exhibition.

The latter, a series of short tone pictures, were originally written for piano, but several arrangements for orchestra have also been made. In 1873, Moussorgsky was saddened by the death of his friend Victor Hartmann, a talented artist and architect. Hartmann's admirers collected all his available drawings for a memorial exhibition. The greatest of these are commemorated in Moussorgsky's music.

The Promenade is supposed to depict Moussorgsky himself "walking to and fro, now loitering, now hurrying to examine a congenial work. Sometimes his step slackens for he is thinking of his dead friend." Moussorgsky is said to have been especially pleased with the Promenades and once said, "my own physiognomy peeps out all through these intermezzi." There are 10 pictures in the set.

The complete program includes:

'Indicators' Show Imminent Upturn

BY SYLVIA PORTER

The 12 crucial "leading indicators" which signal in advance changes in the direction of business in our country are turning slightly more favorable. The list is not yet flashing positive evidence that the upturn is imminent. It is, though, emphasizing how extraordinarily mild this recession continues to be. It is clearly suggesting that a downturn which remains this mild in its 10th month is hardly likely to start snowballing into a serious slump now.

And if only a few more of the indicators switch to the plus side in the next 60 days or so, there will be a powerful implication that the 1960-61 recession is over. The importance of the 12 indicators at this critical point in the current recession is undeniable. They were selected out of hundreds of statistical series compiled in the United States, because over the past 40 years each has had a record of turning favorable in advance of business upturns, turning unfavorable in advance of business declines.

Inside Picture

When the 12 are put together, they give an "inside" picture of the most significant aspects of our economy. They telegraph ahead trends which are emerging, show what is happening in our economy before what is happening becomes obvious.

Here is the latest tally of the 12 with a report on changes which have occurred since I submitted my last report on this Jan. 5.

(1) Liabilities of business failures. Still semi-favorable. There has been no marked improvement, no deterioration either.

(2) Index of common stock prices. Now favorable, an improvement from semi-favorable in early January. The swing back in stock prices in recent months just cannot be shrugged off.

(3) New orders of durable goods manufacturers. Still unfavorable.

(4) Housing starts. Still semi-favorable if the figures on building permits are used, but worsening to unfavorable if the Census Bureau's statistics on housing starts are used. Experts are skeptical about the Census Bureau reports because they're so erratic; so this indicator probably can be called semi-favorable.

(5) Commercial and industrial building contracts. Still favorable.

(6) Average workweek in manufacturing. Semi-favorable to unfavorable because of the decline in the workweek during the recent vile weather. To be conservative, let's call this one unfavorable.

(7) Net change in number of operating businesses. Still unfavorable.

May Be Leveling

(8) Index of raw materials prices. Now semi-favorable against unfavorable in January, and if the rise of the past few weeks persists a while longer, this vital

Stocks Move To Upside

List Spurts in Wave of Heavy Afternoon Trades

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market overcame irregularity and moved to the upside in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .70 at 232.60 with industrials up 1.60, rails up .20 and utilities down .10.

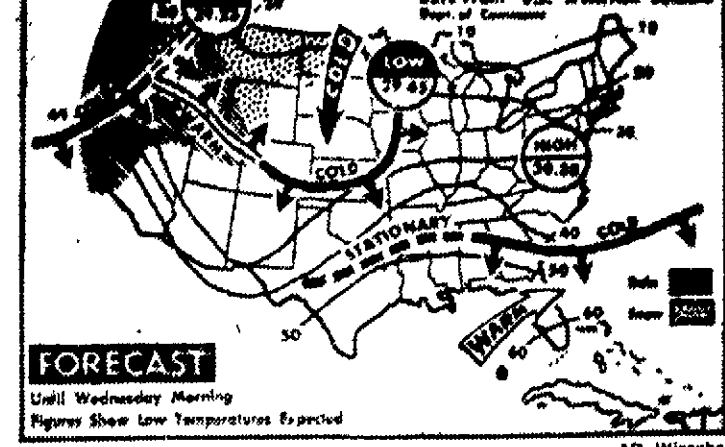

Gains of fractions to a point or more outnumbered losers among pivotal issues.

The list spurred in a wave of heavy trading after House Speaker Sam Rayburn emerged from a conference with President Kennedy and said the need to fight recession was more urgent than at any time since the depression 1930s.

Steels, motors, rails, airlines, electronics, and electrical equipments were on the upside. Chemicals, utilities, tobaccos, drugs, and oils were mixed.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.23 at 641.27.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were higher.

Precipitation Tonight Is expected over the northern plains and northern Rockies in the form of snow with rain and snow mixed over the northern and central plateau and rain over the Pacific coast from central California north. It will be warmer in the central plains; cooler in the northern and central Appalachians.

Snow Cover Absent From Most of State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow, that white fluffy stuff which in past years has played a major part in Wisconsin winters, was all but missing from the state's landscape today after several days of mild temperatures.

The thin snow cover over the northland has disappeared except in a narrow band in the extreme north. Nearly an inch of snow fell on Park Falls Monday night, but amounts elsewhere were not measurable.

Temperatures dropped to lower levels during the night than had been reported for several nights, but they were still 10 to 22 degrees above normal. Superior was the coldest spot with 18 above zero. Eau Claire had 19, Park Falls 23, Madison 25, La Crosse and Wausau 26, Lone Rock 27, Lake Geneva 28, Kenosha 29 and Green Bay 30.

The mercury hit the 30s and 40s Monday, with a top of 45 at Kenosha, Lake Geneva and Racine. Superior's high was 30.

Skies were fair to partly cloudy throughout Wisconsin at mid-morning today.

Purchase of Equipment for School Okayed

Menasha to Buy Band Instruments Piano, Hurlles

MENASHA — Band instruments, a grand piano, window shades and athletic equipment were among major items approved for purchase Monday by the Board of Education.

The board received bids on rewiring gymnasium and pool circuits and the distribution network, but deferred action for joint approval with the Common Council.

Band instruments, from Music Co., Appleton, will cost $1,940, including 11 clarinets, five cornets and a trombone. A grand piano, a used unit, will be bought from Charles Kolb of Appleton for $725.

Window shades for Banta School will cost $447 from Wisconsin School Service, Milwaukee. Drapes, from Jandrey Co., Neenah, will be $738.

Sixty hurdles for the high school track will cost $1,128 and physical education equipment at Banta School, $517.

The electrical work bids totaled from $8,387 to $10,190. Drucks Electric Co., Menasha, submitted the low figure. Bids also came from Becher Electric Co., Menasha; Langstadt's, Inc., Neenah, and General Wiring Co., Appleton.

The board approved advertising for new lights for the Butte des Morts Junior High School stage area, termed a necessity since band practice is held there and musicians have trouble reading sheet music.

Chicago Poultry

CHICAGO (AP) — (USDA) — Live poultry: Monday's receipts were 41,000 lbs: wholesale buying prices unchanged, roasters 23-24; white rock fryers 21 1/2-22 1/2.

Approve Teacher Evaluation Guides

Instructor Performance to be Reported by Menasha Principals

MENASHA—Teacher evaluation guides and tri-yearly reports by principals on each instructor in their charge, were approved by the Board of Education Monday night.

The main purpose of the guides is supervision, defined in the new board policy handbook as "the cooperative effort on the part of the principal and teacher toward good, effective instruction."

The steps outlined in the guides include class visitation, conferences, training programs and curriculum planning.

Reports will be due Nov. 30, Feb. 28 and May 30. The board will see two reports for any given school year before it approves new teacher contracts each April. The third will serve as an end-of-year report.

Principals are to report monthly to the superintendent on class visits and supervision. The superintendent will give an overall report on the six principals' reports at each board meeting.

The board approved hiring Mrs. Marjorie Weavers of Appleton as a speech correctionist, filling the last vacancy on the public school faculty for the second semester.

Mrs. Weavers is a licensed correctionist and has taught in Palatine, Ill., and New York. She was graduated in 1953 from the University of Wisconsin and is now operating the program.

The board also:

1. Approved the job outline for the speech correctionist.
2. Adopted the 1961-62 school calendar of 180 class days. Sept. 5 and 6 will be devoted to teachers' meetings and Sept. 7 will be the first day of school. June 3 is the baccalaureate date, June 6 commencement and June 8 closing.
3. Ratified hiring Maurice Toennissen as relief maintenance man.

UW Head Tells Of Budget Needs

Legislature Must Approve Funds To Meet Enrollment Demand

OSHKOSH — The Legislature must have mass production, he stressed, to meet the enrollment demand at the University of Wisconsin.

He cited certain classes, such as astronomy and certain foreign languages, which had small enrollments previously and now are meeting the enrollment demand in much in demand by students.

The next few years, Dr. Conrad A. Elvehjem, university president, told the Oshkosh Chapter of the Wisconsin Alumni Association Monday.

The Oshkosh chapter paid special tribute to a fellow citizen, Carl E. Steiger, president of the university Board of Regents, for his activities in the field of education, for the university and Ripon College, of which he is a trustee, and St. John's Military Academy at Delafield, of which he is the vice president.

The university president in outlining the budget needs of the dinner said that we cannot tamper with the ratio of faculty and students without endangering the quality of our education. We cannot

3 Youths Get Long Terms in Fatal Beating

Trio Pleads Guilty Of 1960 Killing on Indian Reservation

Post-Crescent News Service

SHAWANO — Three Keshena youths received long prison terms here Monday for the fatal beating of a visitor on the Menominee Indian Reservation last year.

The trio pleaded guilty to manslaughter after the charges were reduced from second degree murder.

Robert Hawpetoss, 20, was sentenced to not more than 12 years in the state prison at Waupun. His brother, John, 22, and Leroy Stick, 21, were sentenced to not more than 10 years in the state reformatory at Green Bay.

Robert Hawpetoss was found guilty of two burglary charges, also and given an extra three-year sentence to run consecutively to the manslaughter term.

The three originally were charged with second degree murder in the death of William Nelis, Jr., 24, of Oshkosh, Wis. Nelis died in Shawano Community Hospital Sept. 6, 1960, three days after being beaten and trampled in a brawl on the reservation.

John Hawpetoss and Stick were arrested before Nelis died, but Robert Hawpetoss was not captured until a month later near the McNaughton Prison Camp in Oneida County. He had gone to visit friends there and was taken into custody after a spectacular chase.

The case here Monday was heard by Circuit Judge Gerald L. Boileau, Wausau, presiding in place of Judge Andrew W. Parnell, who disqualified himself when the defendants filed a writ of prejudice against him.

$400,000 Project Includes Mains, Lift Stations

NEENAH—Contracts for corrective sewer work in Neenah will be let in approximately 30 days. Mayor Chester S. Bell said this morning.

On Jan. 18 the common council authorized issuance of general obligation bonds, not to exceed $400,000, to pay for the extensive project.

Mayor Bell said consultants from the Jerry Donohue Engineering Co., Sheboygan, have been in Neenah studying the details of the program and have recommended changes in lift stations.

Lift station projects include improvements at the Park and Doty, Cecil and Harrison, and Van and Adams streets station, and a new lift station in the vicinity of Bergstrom Paper Co.

In addition to the lift stations, the project includes seven major storm sewer additions, ranging from 12-inch relief sewers to 42-inch storm sewer mains.

The problem was brought to a head Dec. 20, 1959, when heavy rains caused sewers to back up into basements. Subsequent investigation revealed cross connections between storm and sanitary sewers and a general overload of storm sewers.

Steps have been taken to eliminate the cross connections.

Oshkosh Chamber Official Views Airport Problem

MENASHA—Every city cannot have an airport in its back yard, so the most important thing is to provide the best air service for the least money, Conrad Ben Pitcher, Oshkosh Chamber of Commerce executive secretary, told the Neenah-Menasha Junior Chamber of Commerce last night.

A 30-minute drive to any airport is reasonable, he added. "All the views I've heard on this subject are correct," he commented on the current controversy over expanding the Oshkosh airport or building a new joint Outagamie-Winnebago county airport.

Pitcher said people should stop harassing the County Board and pulling supervisors in three or four different directions.

He suggested defining the problem, then asking for comments and suggestion, making a plan, and presenting it to the County Board.

Ravine Parking Lot May Not be Developed

they used the normal standards for such work.

VanDinter said, "You can't buy land out in the country for that, or even in Freedom," and got a round of applause from the other property owners.

"Location and use should determine the price," John Feavel, another owner, noted.

Edward Bahcall, vice president of I. Bahcall, Inc., said he thought the city should buy the homes along Division Street, too.

Business Interested

The Bahcall firm owns a strip of land along the railroad tracks at the end of the ravine. "It's foolish for the city to buy the back end of the lots. Someday the city is going to need the fronts too, and then the price will double or triple if there is a parking lot there," he said.

Bahcall said he had been approached by a supermarket firm interested in buying the ravine land for a new market.

Rudolph Breitling, another owner, said he thought the ravine land would be a good place for a city auditorium or civic center.

Mayor Mitchell said that the ravine is all filledland and pilings would have to be sunk deep into solid ground to support any kind of building, increasing construction costs. He said he thought the ravine was filled to a depth of 30 or 60 feet in some places, and pilings would have to go deep into solid ground.

Appraisal a Start

Property owners maintained desire for a southern outlet to the sea. "This made World War I infilled for more than 28 or 30 feet, evitable."

The mayor and Ald. Stumpf told the property owners that the appraised value was a starting point.

Suspect Suicide In Shooting of Bay Woman

Post-Crescent News Service

GARY, Ind.—"Everything so far points to suicide," a sheriff's investigator said today about the fatal shooting of Bonnie Sterling, 26, early Sunday at an Allouez home.

The young divorcee, who recently returned to Green Bay from Rochester, N. Y., after the break-up of her second marriage, died when a single bullet was fired into the middle of her chest. Authorities are almost positive the gun shot was self-inflicted, accepting tentatively the account of the only witness, Myrl C. Clough, 21, at whose home the shooting occurred.

Clough was not charged but was held today for questioning. Sgt. Richard Schrickel of the sheriff's office said this morning that investigation confirmed Clough's account of the shooting.
